First river water treaty in 25 yrs

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

INDIA and Bangladesh on Tuesday made some progress in the contentious river water sharing issue by signing their first accord over one river after 25 years, during the meeting Prime Minister Narendra Modi had with his visiting counterpart Sheikh Hasina.

The pact was signed on sharing the Kushiyara, one of the 54 rivers that pass through both borders. Hasina brought up the pending Teesta river treaty during the talks, but it would be addressed at a later date.

Kushiyari was among the seven MoUs signed by both sides. They also decided to jointly face terrorist and fundamentalist forces that threaten to attack mutual trust. "It's imperative that we together face the forces that are adversarial to us," Modi said.

Foreign Secretary Vinay Kwatra termed counter-terrorism and radicalisation as an obstacle and security threat to bilateral ties, adding the two leaders held comprehensive talks on how to improve cooperation on them.

Bangladesh is India's biggest development and trade partner on the subcontinent with bilateral trade reaching $18 billion.

"Across Asia, India is the biggest market for exports from Bangladesh. To further expedite this progress, we will soon initiate discussions on a comprehensive economic partnership agreement (CEPA)," Modi added. Kwatra said the CEPA is expected by 2026, by which time Bangladesh would be upgraded as a developing country.

Both leaders held comprehensive talks on the increasing Chinese presence in Bangladesh. "Discussions between the two leaders have been comprehensive. In this context there is a clear common understanding that the strategic priorities of the relationship of the two countries, interests and concerns of India, and interests and priorities of Bangladesh are all factored in our cooperative matrix of engagement," the foreign secretary said.

Hasina underlined that India is the most important and closest neighbour of Bangladesh and their bilateral relations are role models for neighbourhood diplomacy.

"There are 54 rivers. As long as Prime Minister Modi is here, India and Bangladesh will resolve all these issues," Hasina said

Both sides hoped pacts for other rivers would be signed soon

Bangla looking for Russian oil via India

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

BANGLADESH is trying to buy cheap oil from Russia to reduce its crude bill and possibly routing the shipment via India.

"Bangladesh Petroleum Corporation is in talks with Rosneft to import crude at discounted rates of $59 a barrel as against the global market price that is creeping towards $100. Since Bangladesh doesn't have the technology to refine Russian crude, it may turn to India for help," said sources.

At present, Bangladesh has a long-term contract with India to import refined crude oil from the Numaligarh refinery in Assam. Besides, it has given the green light to Indian Oil Corporation Limited for exporting refined petroleum products.

An under-construction cross-border 131.57 km friendship oil pipeline is expected to be ready by year-end, which will make fuel supplies seamless. Around 125 km of the pipeline has already been laid. It will connect Siliguri, West Bengal and Parbatipur, Dinajpur. The cost of the pipeline is around ₹500 crore, of which nearly ₹300 crore is being provided by India. Of the total length of the pipeline, 126.50 km is inside Bangladesh.

"This pipeline will ensure uninterrupted fuel supply to 16 districts in Bangladesh of Rangpur and Rajshahi and would be cost effective," said sources.

Blame game begins as Bengaluru floods kill 1

23-year-old electrocuted trying to take support of electric pole

Govt, Oppn locked in mud slinging

Even before the water receded from parts of Bengaluru, the ruling and opposition parties are engaged in a blame game. While CM pointed fingers at previous Congress regime, the opposition asked what his government has been doing for 3 years.

Help pours in

For those suffering the aftermath of the heavy rain and flooding in the city, here are some groups that are lending a helping hand. And for those willing to volunteer, here's how you can.

MOHAMMED YACOOB & MANJU SHETTAR @ Bengaluru

BENGALURU'S heavy rain and the flood horror snuffed out a young woman's life late Monday night on the flooded Varthur Road in Whitefield even as severe inundation continued in south and south-east parts of Bengaluru on day two of continued miseries for residents, commuters and denizens of the affected parts of a much-touted 'global city'.

Despite the magnitude of the problem faced by the state capital — also billed as the 'IT Capital of India' — Tuesday witnessed blame game being resorted to at every level, right from the civic authorities over the young woman's death to the chief minister blaming the previous Congress government for the present mess, mainly due to inadequate infrastructure and poor city planning.

A 23-year-old woman, Akhila S, was electrocuted on Varthur Road near Mayura Bakery in Whitefield at about 9.30 pm on Monday while returning home late from her work at a school in BEML Layout where she worked as administrative staff. Delayed due to heavy rain, Akhila, a resident of Siddapura, started for home from the school on her two-wheeler, but lost her balance and fell on the flooded road.

While trying to get up, she took support of an electric pole, got electrocuted, and died while passersby were trying to take her to the hospital. P2, 5

Minister Katti dies of heart failure

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

FOOD and Civil Supplies and Forest Minister Umesh Katti passed away after suffering a massive heart attack here on Tuesday night. He was 61.

Earlier in the night, he had collapsed in the toilet of his residence at Dollars Colony. When he did not come out for some time, his family members went in, saw him lying on the floor and rushed him to MS Ramaiah Hospital.

UMESH KATTI 1961-2022

He was admitted to the ICU, where he breathed his last, according to family sources.

He is survived by his wife Sheela, son Nikhil and daughter Sneha.

Born on June 6, 1961, he was an eight-time MLA from Hukkeri in Belagavi district. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai who was on night rounds of Benglauru, cut it short and rushed to the hospital. P4

Use of Kannada now mandatory at all govt events across state

Bengaluru: After receiving flak from various quarters over not using Kannada in government programmes, the state government has issued a circular mandating the use of Kannada at all official events. The circular, issued by Chief Secretary Vandita Sharma, pointed out that using Kannada should become a priority and not an option.

VILLAS BLOCK DRAINS, INMATES SEEK RESPITE

Same apartments & villa complexes listed for demolition for encroaching rajakaluves

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE floods spared no one -- not the pourakarmikas in their sheds, nor the CEOs in their posh villas. For the second consecutive day, residents of these high-end properties remained stranded, and had to be ferried out in dinghies and tractors.

Residents of the apartments and villas, some of them costing up to Rs 13 crore each, blamed the BBMP for the deluge. However, these are the same apartment and villa complexes which were listed for demolition as they have encroached culverts of water bodies.

As a warning, BBMP deployed earthmovers at Divyashree and Epsilon apartments to break the slabs blocking the drains. "About 500 feet of slabs were removed from Divyashree apartment complex, and 20 feet of encroachment was removed at Epsilon residential villas in Yamalur. The situation has improved now," said Dr Trilok Chandra, Special Commissioner, Mahadevapura Zone, who was deployed to monitor flood relief, rescue work and also remove encroachments. He told TNIE that BBMP will go ahead with its encroachment drives, and clear culverts connecting lakes to stop flooding.

According to reports, a flat at Divyashree ranges between Rs 2.5 crore and Rs 7 crore. "During its launch, the property was priced at around Rs 2 crore, and has gone up to Rs 8 crore. Despite paying so much, it still gets flooded," said a resident from the area. Similarly, Adarsh Palm Retreat, comprising over 300 villas, was also flooded due to heavy rain, breaching of lakes and overflowing drains.

At TZ Apartment in Ramagondanahalli, BBMP had to deploy boats, and the SDRF team from Belagavi was sent to coordinate with BBMP and Fire and Emergency Service officials. Teams were also deployed at Yamalur-Borewell Road to ferry residents from Shobha Palladium, and other areas. The drain next to this apartment is almost full, and the main road is under 3ft deep water.

Aqua cars

Floods in Bengaluru engulfed luxury cars. From Bentley to Lexus, Audi Q5, Mercedes Benz, and others have been submerged. CEO of Unacademy Gaurav Munjal, his family and pet were evacuated on a tractor on Tuesday.

Girinath seeks 2 more days to clear water

Citizens now scan the sky every evening to look for dark clouds, fearing the next spell of rain could add misery to their plight. With the floodwaters yet to be drained out, fresh rain will only bring more trouble. BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath on Tuesday provided little relief, saying it would take the BBMP two more days to drain out water from the flood-hit areas. "We have started draining out water, and have deployed additional personnel and machinery. It has been raining every day, and the lakes are full. So, we have to carry out our work considering these factors," he said. Water from Varthur lake has been released downstream to Dakshin Pinakini, and other places. With this, water from Bellandur lake has also been diverted, and released downstream. "We can only start using pumpsets when water from the drains recedes, which will take some time," he said. BOSKY KHANNA

DAY 2 UNDER WATER

CM goes on night rounds to assess damages

Bengaluru: Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai set out on night rounds in Bengaluru on Monday to assess the widespread damage caused by rain. But he had to cut short his visit as Forest Minister Umesh Katti passed away late on Monday night. He said the flood situation is being handled by releasing water from lakes and by clearing encroachments, mostly in Mahadevapura and Bommanahalli. There is a problem in two or three areas, and operations are underway to clear them, he added.

HC basement flooded, lifts for judges out of order

Bengaluru: As sumps overflowed due to heavy downpour on Sunday night, the basement of the Karnataka High Court building was partially inundated. Submersible pumps began working automatically after the water reached a certain level. Sources in the high court and PWD said that these sumps overflowed due to excess ground water seepage, resulting in flooding. For the first time in three decades, lifts could not be used by the judges as the pits were flooded. Technicians will inspect the lifts, sources said. A few records stores in the lower compartment of the racks of the index section in the cellar went partially under water, sources said.

Buses under water at Majestic

Bengaluru : Flooding at Kempegowda Bus Station (Majestic) left hundreds of buses stuck for more than two hours. At many bus depots in Koramangala, Shanthinagar, MS Palya, Devanahalli, and Kothnoor Dinne, rainwater gushed inside, while an official said the compound wall at some of the depots have. On Tuesday, people were seen pulling a BMTC bus to a safer location in Whitefield.

Girinath's social media post faces backlash

Bengaluru: Enraged Bengalureans lashed out at BBMP and the state government on social media for poor infrastructure and encroachments which have resulted in flooding. Palike chief Tushar Girinath posted on social media on Tuesday: With 162 lakes full, the rain have caused flooding. However the situation has been brought under control, and the flooding is localised between Bellandur and Varthur. The flooding is only limited to 5-6 sqkm. This irked netizens who demanded that he visit the flood-hit areas to witness their plight. They also blamed the BJP for the mess, adding that this problem is not restricted to Bengaluru, but also ails other metro cities as well.

IT firms closely monitoring situation

Bengaluru: IT firms, which were slowly bringing employees back to office, have put off plans till the rain situation improves. Wipro advised its employees to work from home, while TCS said it is closely monitoring the situation. Techies have had to wade through flood-waters to reach their offices. The Wipro campus on Sarjapur Road was submerged on Monday. A Wipro spokesperson said, "Business continuity plans have been invoked and there has been no disruption. We are monitoring the situation." TCS said all its associates at Bengaluru are safe, and their delivery teams have been advised to exercise due caution. Only 10% to 20% of IT employees are in office regularly. Recently, Outer Ring Road Companies Association, which represents all major and banking companies on the ORR stretch, in a letter to the CM, said poor infrastructure on the corridor is bringing down efficiency and productivity of the companies, and putting employees' safety at risk. ENS

NO POWER, WATER, FAMILIES SHIFT TO HOTELS

Waterlogging at Srinidhi Signature apartment

Bengaluru: After heavy rain battered the city, apartments at LB Shastri Nagar off the Old Airport Road are cut off from water supply and electricity. Some of the 132 families at Fern Saroj apartments have left their homes, and checked into hotels, while a few of them have sought shelter in their relatives or friends' homes. The basement has been under 5ft of water since Sunday night. The fallout of flooding is that many children of nearby apartments have been unable to attend school as buses have failed to enter. The neighbouring RR Castles hired a fire engine for Rs 10,000, and removed water from their basement on Monday. Padmaja Ramamurthy and her family, who were leaving Fern Saroj in a car, said, "We have two little twins. They cannot manage without basic amenities. We are heading to a hotel," she said. Fern Saroj Apartment Owners Association president V Prabhakar told TNIE, ENS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BBMP has asked marooned residents of Marathahalli and Yamalur to shift temporarily to safe localities as their apartments continue to remain flooded with rain and drain water. Several bikes and cars parked in basements were submerged, as were thousands of sheds in Munekolalu.

BBMP officials and local leaders who visited the area on Tuesday asked residents to make temporary living arrangements, as rain may continue for a few more days.

Heavy rain lashed Whitfield, causing gridlocks and forcing police to divert traffic. CEOs and CFOs of IT-BT companies took a tractor ride to safety, helped by neighbourhood residents, and booked rooms in star hotels and lodges.

Ramanjanappa, a resident of Yamalur, said, "My family left after water gushed in and we couldn't pump it out. I left my valuables behind, including jewels and documents, and reached my relative's house. Power supply is also cut." Pramod Kumar, an IT employee, said, "The rain intensity was very high and there was a lot of water in the basement of our apartment. There is no scope to pump out water. It was a nightmare for three days."

Shyamsundar B, a resident of Munekolalu who was stranded in his house, said his neighbours arranged for tractors to shift him and other families out. "It is difficult, especially for senior citizens and those who need medicines and essentials." On Tuesday too, traffic was badly impacted on Outer Ring Road, which also connects the city to tech parks on the outskirts. EcoSpace near Bellandur ORR saw major flooding again as the storm water drain overflowed.

Hotels offer 50% off

Reaching out to flood-hit citizens looking for safe spaces, Bruhat Bengaluru Hoteliers' Association on Tuesday announced that hotels will offer 50% discount to families seeking shelter. Budget hotels in areas like HSR Layout, Murugeshpalya, Gandhinagar and other parts of the city where there is no flooding, are offering this scheme.

07TH September : The real question this week is posed by vivacious Venus in its passionate link with optimistic Jupiter. This is one of those alignments which makes us look at reality as it is - I've heard Jupiter called the planet of ultimate truths. However, we can't always be sure that what we see is real - or an illusion.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
I am afraid that not everyone has your high standards. The only way to survive will be to accept that just for now the rest of the world is out of step with your lofty expectations. Don't be too hard on other people, though. Perhaps they just can't help it!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Today's powerful Moon piles on the pressure - and that's a good thing! Everything depends on your sense of timing and it's vital that you instinctively know when to stand firm and when to compromise. Only you can take these decisions, so there is no reason to sit around while other people make up their minds.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Your resilience may be eroded, if only because you could do with a rest. Yet, there is much that you can do to help yourself, like standing aside from battles you can't win. After all, there's no reason why you should waste your energy on people who don't deserve it.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
The Moon blazes brilliantly in parts of your chart best known for their influence over cultural, creative and artistic proclivities. Perhaps it's time for a spot of self-improvement. It's certainly the moment for a few dramatic gestures: you still have the capacity to issue some big surprises.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
You'll put the maximum effort into domestic and family relationships, perhaps because your instincts tell you that partners need to be placated. Many of you will be reviving plans for a move of home, or at least for substantial reforms, but others must be fully consulted.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Your words of wisdom will be highly valued - for once. You could try to bring your clear approach to all tangled emotional problems, both helping yourself and assisting others in their efforts to free themselves from excessively successively complicated situations.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Rather than concentrating exclusively on the details of your savings and bank balance, get to grips with the deeper issues. For example, what is it exactly that you need to make you feel materially secure? A profound question, I know, but no less necessary for all that.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
A spectacular relationship between Neptune and the Moon could soon set the cat among the pigeons. Welcome changes are in line for some of you, but many will experience no more than maddening obstruction from partners. In the meantime, stay out of trouble!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Don't let all that current tension get to you physically. Why not spare a little thought for your body and see to it that your diet and exercise are exactly what is needed? If there's room for improvement, make the necessary moves without undue delay.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
I don't think there's any use in going it alone. Indeed, so powerful are the social trends in your solar chart that you may do best to abandon some of your own plans and fall in with others' arrangements. You may fear rejection, but there will always be room for you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
A series of spectacular aspects is soon due to raise questions about your private life. In particular, it seems that either you have been reluctant to commit yourself, or that you have done so on the basis of false information. All will become clear before long.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
This is now a period of maximum solar energy. You stand to benefit both personally and professionally, even though your mood may be a little unpredictable. Insensitive people may be even more irritating than normal, but you can always do the Piscean thing and slip away.

Govt schoolkids to get socks, shoes next month

SHILPA P @ Bengaluru

OVER 47.13 lakh students of over 48,000 government schools will finally get their shoes and socks by October, after Dasara.

Commissioner of the Department of Public Instructions Vishal R told TNIE that the state government has approved Rs 132 crore for shoes and socks, and released the funds too. The money has been released to all districts through the respective DCs, who in turn, will release the money to BEOs who are mapping School Development Management Committees of schools, and release funds to SDMCs by the month-end. Once they receive the funds, SDMCs will procure shoes and socks and distribute them to students in October, he said.

Shoes, socks and bicycles were not approved in the budget for the third consecutive year, and Education and Literacy Minister BC Nagesh defended dropping of the two programmes, stating that priority was to give quality education. Former Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, who had introduced the scheme to distribute shoes and socks, argued that when children of private schools can go to school wearing socks and shoes, why should government schoolchildren go to school barefoot? Reconsidering the decision, CM Basavaraj Bommai announced that shoes and socks would be provided for government schoolchildren.

1k maternal healthcare workers to undergo training

BENGALURU: With an aim to reduce maternal and infant mortality rates, training of 1,000 frontline maternal healthcare workers in Karnataka is being streamlined as part of 'Vision 2022 Skill India'. Dr Hema Divakar, Chairperson, ARTIST for Her (Asian Research and Training Institute for Skill Transfer), said, "The initiative will help imbibe technical, operational and communication skills in frontline workers and also reduce the quality and quantity gaps in healthcare. There is a need for one million healthcare workers to oversee 30 million deliveries in India." A budget of Rs 1 crore has been allocated to train the 1,000 frontline maternal healthcare workers and the project is expected to be completed in six months. Later, the target will be scaled up to one million frontline workers across the country. ENS

3 GOVT-RUN HOSPITALS SHORT-STAFFED

The surprise visits made by teams of Karnataka Lokayukta found out that several posts are lying vacant in three government-run major hospitals in the city, causing severe inconvenience to the needy. According to the Lokayukta report, while in Minto Eye Hospital, 68 per cent posts of nursing staff are vacant, 52 per cent of Group 'A' posts and 35 per cent of Group 'C' posts are vacant at Indira Gandhi Institute of Child Health. In Rajiv Gandhi Institute of Chest Diseases, more than 50 per cent of doctor posts and 80 per cent posts for non-teaching staff are vacant. Lokayukta Justice BS Patil has initiated suo motu proceedings against the Secretary to the Medical Education Department and heads of the hospitals and directed them to take remedial measures.

FOUL smell emanating from fungus growth in operation theatre at General Hospital in Babu Jag Jivan Ram Nagar, operation theatre and lab not functional due to shortage of staff and doctors at Priyadarshini Maternity Home in Tavarekere, inadequate supply of medicines at Banashankari Referral Hospital, and the Maternity Hospital building on Magadi Road being in a dilapidated condition are some of the shocking realities unearthed by teams of Karnataka Lokayukta during their recent surprise visits to 10 hospitals run by the BBMP in the city.

Giving details of the irregularities at the hospitals raided, a Lokayukta report said the General Hospital in Babu Jag Jivan Ram Nagar, constructed in 2017-18, is of poor construction quality and its walls have developed cracks leading to seepage of water and dampness.

At Priyadarshini Maternity Home in Tavarekere, there are no X-ray and scanning facilities. Food is not provided to the patients and pharmacy is understaffed leading to mismanagement of medicines. In most of the hospitals, cash declaration registers are not maintained.

The report said that at Banashankari Referral Hospital, there are no adequate beds for patients. There is also shortage of doctors and supporting staff. 'Madilu Kit' supply too stopped a month ago. Doctors at Maternity Hospital on Magadi Road have not marked their attendance and there is lack of hygiene on the hospital premises.

At Referral Hospital on Siddaiah Road, many notice boards are broken and water purifiers are not functioning. Vitamin D-3 medicine prescribed by doctors is out of stock and there is also no ramp and lift facility. Though the government provided echo and mammography facilities to the hospital, they have not been used since six years for want of appointment of technicians. At Austin Town Maternity Home, medical waste has not been disposed, there is no proper maintenance of staff quarters as funds have not been released and free food is not being supplied to patients. Similarly, there is lack of maintenance of toilets at NR Colony Maternity Home which requires renovation. No patients are being admitted at Ulsoor Referral Hospital due to renovation work of the hospital building.

Initiating suo motu proceedings against the Secretary to Urban Development Department, Chief Commissioner of BBMP and others, Lokayukta Justice B S Patil issued show-cause notices to them.

NURSE KILLED IN ROAD MISHAP

BENGALURU: A 30-year-old nurse was fatally mowed down by a speeding water tanker in Rajajinagar traffic police station limits on Tuesday morning. The deceased, Asha, a resident of Laggere, was working as a staff nurse at KIMS Hospital. Police said around 10.30 am, Asha was going on her scooter on the Rajajinagar 60 Feet Road when the tanker rammed her, killing her on the spot. The tanker driver abandoned the vehicle and fled. The Rajajinagar traffic police are on the lookout for the absconding driver. ENS

Parappana Agrahara best prison in India

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

PARAPPANA Agrahara central prisons has bagged the first prize in the 6th All India Prison Duty Meet in Prison Hygiene Competition.

Around 1,319 prisons from across all states and Union Territories had participated in the contest, which was held in Ahmedabad recently. The second prize is bagged by a central prison in Andhra Pradesh, while the third prize has been bagged by a central prison of Tamil Nadu.

Quality of the food, livelihood and health of prisoners, cleanliness inside the prison compound, maintenance of toilets and bathrooms, safety, security, and duty deployment, were some of the parameters which were surveyed, as part of the competition.

A team of five officials, led by the Assistant Director of Bureau of Police Research and Development (BPR&D), New Delhi, had come to Parappana Agrahara on August 26, to look at the jail.

"The officials communicated with the prisoners. The records maintained by the central prison officials were also checked by the team. They even monitored the condition of the prisoners and took pictures. Action taken by the jail officials for good prison administration was reviewed. They also visited the prison industries, and discussed the future plans of the prison officials," PS Ramesh, Chief Superintendent of Parappana Agrahara central prisons, told The New Indian Express.

Ashwin Mahesh to work on AAP manifesto for BBMP polls

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Aam Aadmi Party has given the responsibility to coordinate and lead the preparation of the party's manifesto for BBMP elections to urbanist Ashwin Mahesh.

Mahesh said he would like to do three things, which together will lead to promises that people care about, on issues that are vital to the city, and with measurable outcomes. "There should be ward manifestos in addition to the city level document. People are most concerned about development around their homes, which they can relate to, and 243 detailed ward manifestos will be published to address issues in each locality," he stated, adding that the party would have at least one lakh conversations with people, called Namma Ooru Charche, so the manifesto speaks from people's hearts, about their hopes and concerns. He noted that every voter will get a guarantee card, listing what will be done in an AAP-led council and every AAP councillor's ward. "Five years later, people can check if the party has kept the promises," he added.

Nagavi, Hosalli and Sudi villages of Gadag district reported the highest rainfall in the state between 8.30 am on September 5 and 8.30 am on September 6. Nagavi of Gadag taluk received 179.5 mm rain, Hosalli of Ron taluk 178 mm and Sudi in Ron taluk 174 mm. As per the data shared by the Karnataka State Natural Disaster Monitoring Centre, the top three locations in the state that received the highest rainfall are in Gadag.

Umesh Katti, a relentless fighter for separate N Karnataka state

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR
@Belagavi

FOOD and Civil Supplies and Forest Minister Umesh Katti, a veteran politician, had created a record of sorts in the state politics winning eight of the nine elections he contested. For the last one decade, Katti had been relentlessly demanding the formation of a new North Karnataka state, contending that the region remained neglected ever since the reorganisation of states.

Despite the warnings issued by JDU, JDS and BJP, which he represented during his political career spanning four decades, Katti stood firm on his demand and raised the issue time and again. Because of his popularity and the massive support he had drawn from the dominant Lingayat community in North Karnataka, he had seen himself as a potential chief minister candidate.

Umesh Katti had contested nine state Assembly elections and won eight of them, which is a record of sorts in state politics | FILE

Born on March 14, 1961, he hailed from the rich and famous Katti family of Hukkeri. He entered state politics in the early 80s and contested the by-polls in 1985 to become MLA for the first time after the demise of his father Vishwanath Katti (former MLA). Since then, he contested nine Assembly elections and won eight of them. The only election he lost was to Shashikant Naik in 2004 (BJP).

The Kattis of Hukkeri shot to prominence after the victory of Umesh Katti as MLA for the first time in 1985 as a member of the Janata Dal. The Katti family was able to gain a stranglehold on the thriving cooperative sector in Belagavi since then and was eventually able to scale dizzying heights in the field of politics.

Former MP of Chikkodi, Ramesh Katti, Umesh's brother, won several elections to DCC Bank and currently holds the position of chairman there. To reap the benefits of Kattis' political clout, the BJP roped in the two brothers into the party in 2008.

Since then, the saffron outfit has been able to win a majority of seats in the North Karnataka region, particularly in Belagavi district.

Ramesh Katti (BJP) won the Lok Sabha election from Chikkodi constituency defeating well-known politician Prakash Hukkeri of Congress in 2009. Umesh Katti contested all the elections to the state assembly (since 1985) from JDU and JDS until he contested the 2008 poll on a BJP ticket.

The BJP government headed by BS Yediyurappa had not inducted Katti into the cabinet but later allotted important portfolios to him in order to stop him from causing a rebellion in the party.

● Chief Minister points finger at previous dispensation; Let's go for polls, DKS throws a challenge ● Bommai warns against encroachments in state capital

AS WATERS RISE, GOVT, CONG LOCKED IN BLAME GAME

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

EVEN before the water has receded and a semblance of normalcy has returned to Bengaluru's rain-battered swathes along the IT corridor, the ruling and opposition parties are engaged in a blame game over the flood-like situation in Bengaluru.

After Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai blamed the previous Congress government for the current situation, the Opposition hit back, asking the BJP government what it had been doing for three years. "This is the result of maladministration of the Congress government. I have taken it as a challenge," he told reporters. The previous government had recklessly permitted building of houses and apartments on tanks, tank bunds and buffer zones, and was solely responsible for the present situation. He said his government released Rs 1,500 crore for the construction of rajakaluves. On Monday, encroachments worth Rs 300 crore were removed, he said.

KPCC chief DK Shivakumar hit back, saying the government had failed to take measures to help people, and was blaming the Congress. "Bengaluru never faced such a situation when the Congress was in power. Now you are in power and if you are not able to work, let us go for elections," Shivakumar said. He questioned the BJP government on what it had done for three years, and said instead of making these allegations, the CM should order a probe and prove if the Congress had done anything wrong. Shivakumar said the Congress would not like to indulge in politics over such a crisis, and has a vision for the development of the state capital. CM Bommai said a Central team has reached Karnataka and will collect information on damage to crops, houses and infrastructure, and the government will seek suitable compensation from the Centre.

Record rain

Due to record rainfall in Bengaluru, the highest in 90 years, tanks have overflowed and a few have even breached, Bommai said. Only two zones in Bengaluru have been affected as all 69 lakes in the area overflowed. Officials and engineers are working 24x7 and the encroachment clearance drive is also on. The water which entered TK Halli pumphouses will take at least two days to be drained out, and this could affect water supply to Bengaluru, Bommai said.

Central team to visit rain-hit KK region

An inter-ministerial Central team is slated to visit flood amd rain-affected parts of Bidar, Kalaburagi and Yadgir districts of Kalyana Karnataka on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday to assess the loss caused by the deluge, through the months of July and August, sources said on Tuesday. The team will visit Hoonikeri village of Bidar taluk, Holsamudra village of Kamalnagar taluk, and Talwad M and Honnekeri villages of Bhalki taluk, on the same day. They are also scheduled to visit a few rain-affected villages of Kalaburagi district on Thursday, and of Yadgir district on Friday. Officials in Kalaburagi and Yadgir are finalising the details.

Illegal constructions in B'luru will be removed: CM

MYSURU: Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Tuesday alleged that the flood situation prevailing in Bengaluru at the moment, is due to the permission given for illegal construction of layouts, permission given for encroachments, and corruption during the earlier Congress government. The CM said that the encroachment of lakes, closing of drains and illegal layouts have led to the flooding in the IT corridor. "It is a challenge to drain the water. I have directed officials to clear encroachments. I have released Rs 300 crore for Bengaluru, and Rs 300 crore for other districts for relief work," he informed. ENS

2 constables washed away in flash flood in Koppal

RAGHOTTAM KOPPAR @Gadag

TWO police constables were feared washed away in a flash flood in a stream at Tondihal Bridge near Kukanur of Koppal district on Monday night. The constables, Ningappa Halawagali and Mahesh Vakrad, were working in the Mundaragi police station limits. While the body of Ningappa was found at the Sangalad check dam, the search was on to trace the other.

After completing their duty on Monday evening, they had gone to Koppal on their personal work. They were supposed to report to duty at night. When they did not turn up, their colleagues tried to contact them, but to no avail. Later, after inquiring with the Koppal police, they came to know that the two had been washed away.

Police sources said, "It was raining heavily on Monday night when Ningappa and Mahesh were returning on their bike to Gajendragad. They reached the Tondihal stream around 8.30 pm. Some locals requested them not to ride through the stream that was overflowing, But they went ahead and got washed away. The villagers informed the police and later a search was launched for their bodies."

26 out of 28 MLAs in B'luru into real estate: Ramya

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

AS the IT City struggles to cope with heavy rain and floods, former Mandya MP and Congress social media in-charge Divya Spandana aka Ramya on Tuesday tweeted, "How many MLA's and MP's of Karnataka have real estate business' would you know? Someone said 26 out of 28 MLAs are into Real Estate. That's a staggering number!"

She said, "And by the way these 26 MLA's into real estate are 'elected' - It was 'the people's choice'. No point cribbing. So please vote and vote wisely. Most people don't even vote, especially in urban areas & then when this happens there's fury. We are all to be blamed for the state we are in."

She added, "Why is it that only people who have the money -- mostly real estate, are given tickets to contest? Think hard, the expenditure allowed by the Election Commission is Rs 40 lakh for an MLA but why do elections run into crores?! Think hard, the answer is all here."

The Association for Democratic Reforms, in its recent report, had stated that on an average, MLAs from the state are the richest in the country. The legislators from Bengaluru, who figure in the report, often have questionable incomes. Opposition Leader Siddaramaiah tweeted targeting Mahadevapura, KR Puram and Bommanhalli MLAs, asking them how long they have been legislators and whether they know the problems of their areas.

JDS state president CM Ibrahim said, "BDA and BBMP are to blame for this. Some MLAs, who are into real estate, have allowed encroachments of raja kaluves."

State Cabinet to meet tomorrow, discuss floods

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

RAIN and floods will top the agenda when the Karnataka cabinet meets at Vidhana Soudha on Thursday. The deluge in the IT corridor, flood control and related issues are expected to be discussed by the ministry.

The government has come in for some stinging criticism for its failure to handle the rain and floods. Incidentally, the cabinet meeting is slated for the same day as the 'Janotsava' celebrations, when BJP National President J P Nadda is expected to be in town.

Sources said although the cabinet had earlier decided on removal of encroachments on natural waterways or rajakaluves, especially around RR Nagar and other parts of Bengaluru, they are yet to be removed.

The cabinet had discussed how water drains out from Bengaluru through natural drainage points of Vrishabhavati and Koramangala-Challaghatta valleys, and how they were choked due to encroachments.

Opposition leader Siddaramaiah criticised the BJP for failing to have a minister exclusively for the development of Bengaluru, as the Congress government did. At present, Bengaluru is being handled by Chief Minister Bommai, and is one of the portfolios he inherited from former CM BS Yediyurappa.

PSI JOB SCAM

BJP MLA's audio clip may be probed

ENS @Bengaluru

CM Basavaraj Bommai on Tuesday indicated that an audio clip of a purported conversation between the father of an aspirant for an SI job and a BJP MLA may be probed CID that's investigating the case.

"We have filed the chargesheets. The investigation is on and if anything new comes, that will also be probed," he said, responding on the purported conversation between Kanakagiri BJP legislator Basavaraj Durugappa Dadesugur and the father of the aspirant, over returning Rs 15 lakh allegedly given to get the job.

Congress has demanded a judicial probe. KPCC chief DK Shivakumar said Dadesugur said he has given money to the government and there has to be a judicial probe into it.

MLA reacts

MLA Dadesugur denied the allegations against him. He said the audio clip has nothing to do with the PSI recruitment. Asked about the reference to money, he said it had nothing to do with him and he was only trying to help the person and had told him that he would help fix the problem. "It has nothing to do with the PSI recruitment. It was an old conversation," he said.

Janotsava tomorrow, BJP organisers keep fingers crossed

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

AS the Basavaraj Bommai-led BJP government is all set to celebrate Janotsava to mark one year of his rule on September 8 at Doddaballapur, state leaders are keeping their fingers crossed as many parts of the state are flooded and are hoping that the event does not get cancelled the second time.

Because of the flood situation, the statewide tour of BJP leaders too has been cancelled, and it is likely to resume after the rain subsides. Janotsava organisers fear that heavy rain across the state, especially in Bengaluru and surrounding areas, could play a spoiler. Preparations are in full swing and BJP national president JP Nadda and BJP General Secretary, Karnataka incharge, Arun Singh are expected to attend. The event was to be celebrated in July, but was cancelled after the murder of BJP Yuva Morcha worker Praveen Nettaru in Dakshina Kannada.

The organisers said the tent that will be put up for the event can withstand hard rain, but they are still uncertain as the Met Department has predicted heavy rainfall across the state for the next five days.

Low footfalls?

Also, the celebration may not attract one lakh people as expected earlier. There is also the worry of going against the people's sentiment of the party holding the celebration when the state is suffering. Also, BJP leaders who had planned to travel across 104 Assembly constituencies this month will start their tour only after the rain subsides. BJP state General Secretary N Ravikumar said the tour programmes of party teams, headed by state BJP president Nalinkumar Kateel, former Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa and Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, that was to begin on Wednesday has been postponed.

The party is also planning to hold separate farmer, women, SC, OBC, youth, ST and minority conventions. All these will be done before December 15, he said.

Police hunting for 2 women behind audio clip on seers

BELAGAVI: A day after Lingayat seer Basava Siddalinga Swamiji of Neginhal Mutt in Belagavi hanged himself, the police have launched a hunt for the two women, whose phone conversation accusing seers of various mutts indulging in sexual abuse had gone viral, allegedly leading to the death of the seer. Bailhongal Police Station Inspector UH Satenahalli said a case has been registered following a complaint against the two women by Neginhal resident Somappa Eerappa Bagewadi. Meanwhile, several seers and political leaders took part in the funeral of the seer on Tuesday. ENS

NIA IMPLICATES PFI IN NETTARU CASE

BALA CHAUHAN & VINCENT D'SOUZA
@Bengaluru, Mangaluru

NAILING the Popular Front of India (PFI) for their alleged involvement in the murder of Praveen Nettaru – the BJP Yuva Morcha leader, the National Investigation Agency (NIA) on Tuesday said PFI had not only "planned," it had also "committed Nettaru's murder as part of a larger conspiracy to strike terror amongst the members of a section of society".

Earlier in the day, NIA conducted searches at 33 locations in Mysuru, Kodagu and Dakshina Kannada districts in relation to the sensational murder case in which the state police have arrested 10 people, including three main accused — Shiyabuddin, Riyaz and Bashir. The weapon used in the murder is yet to be recovered.

Searches were also conducted at multiple locations in Sullia and Puttur taluks of Dakshina Kannada. Sources said more than a dozen NIA teams swooped down on the houses and businesses of several individuals, suspected to have direct or indirect role in Nettaru's murder that took place on July 26 in Bellare of Sullia taluk. Local police accompanied the NIA teams, which began the raids early in the morning, which continued till the evening.

Nettaru was killed in front of his office at Bellare in Sullia taluk. The government had handed over the case to the NIA. The case was initially registered at Bellare police station, Dakshina Kannada district on July 27 and re-registered by NIA on August 4.

The agency added that during the searches on the premises of accused and suspects, "digital devices, used ammunition, improvised arms, cash, incriminating documents, pamphlets and literature were seized," it stated.

The Nettaru murder case had led to large-scale unrest in Dakshin Kannada. Days before his murder, on July 19, Masood (19) was killed by a group of assailants in Kalanja village close to Bellare. Two days after Nettaru's murder, on July 28, Fazil (23) working in Hindustan Petroleum Corporation Limited, was attacked by a group of assailants outside a cloth store in Suratkal. The district police had arrested six accused for their alleged involvement in Fazil murder case, which the police stated, was executed to avenge Praveen's assassination.

7th pay panel to revise salaries in Oct: Bommai

Industries Dept simplifies land allotment procedure

BENGALURU: Ahead of the GIM in November, the Industries Department has simplified the procedure for allotment of industrial land by KIADB. Applications for allotment of industrial land up to 10 acres will not go to Land Audit Committee, but will directly go to the State-level Single Window Clearance Committee headed by Industries Minister Murugesh R Nirani. He said the move will foster transparency.

ENS @Bengaluru

THE state government is constituting the Seventh Pay Commission in October to revise the salaries of government employees, said Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, here on Tuesday.

The Karnataka State Government Employees' Association, which has been making the demand for a long time, has sought a hike of 20-30 per cent, which will translate to a burden of Rs 12,000 crore on the state exchequer. If implemented, employees' salaries will go up in the range of Rs 10,000 to Rs 50,000, depending on the cadre.

CM Basavaraj Bommai presents Sarvottama Seva awards at Vidhana Soudha on Tuesday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

The salaries of government employees here are much lesser compared to the pay packages of their counterparts in the central government and even in Kerala, Andhra and Tamil Nadu. After presenting the Sarvottama Seva awards for outstanding government employees, he said the government will respond positively to the demands of the employees' association and a government order will be issued to cover the government employees under the 'Arogya Sanjeevini' scheme.

Even as the rain fury abated in southernmost districts of Kerala, the Met department has forecast "extremely heavy" rainfall of over 20 cm in a span of 24 hours in three northern districts -- Wayanad, Kannur and Kasaragod -- on Wednesday

NMC gives nod for transfer of Ukraine students

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

IN a departure from earlier norm, the National Medical Commission (NMC) has allowed Indian students who returned from Ukraine following Russia's invasion bid take transfer to medical colleges in other countries.

Indian students studying medicine in a foreign country could not move to other states mid-course. However, considering the circumstances prevailing in Ukraine, the NMC said in a recent notification said that its "no-objection for academic mobility programme in respect of Indian medical students who are studying in Ukraine provided that other criteria of screening test regulations 2002 are fulfilled".

The rule earlier said "the entire course, training, and internship or clerkship shall be done in the same foreign medical institution throughout the course of study and no part of training/internship shall be done from other institute".

However, it said in its latest order: "It is informed that the mobility programme offered by Ukraine has been considered in the NMC in consultation with Ministry of External Affairs, wherein it was intimated that the programme is a temporary relocation to other universities in different countries globally. However, the degree will be awarded by the parent Ukrainian university".

Even as universities in Ukraine have begun operating, prevailing geopolitical conditions are preventing students from attending them. As a consequence, most students have taken to attending online classes even as NMC recognises theory classes online while a large portion of medical education involves practical education. Students who returned from Ukraine were looking at alternatives.

A bulk of the Ukraine-returned students had demanded that, as a temporary solution, they be given seats in Indian private medical institutions. However, there was no response from either the NMC or the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare.

Parents pack boy's body in salt to bring him back to life

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR
@ Ballari

BELIEVING in an unsubstantiated social media post, the parents of a boy, who died after drowning in a pond, packed his body in heaps of salt, hoping to see him come back to life, at Sirwar village of Ballari district on Sunday.

The boy, 10-year-old Suresh H, drowned on Sunday when he had gone to swim in a pond. The family and other villagers trusted the social media post, which said if the body of a drowned victim is packed in salt for four to five hours the person will come back alive, followed the instructions.

The body of Suresh packed in salt at Sirwar village in Ballari district

The parents had seen the social media post recently, and in their desperation to bring Suresh back to life, they followed the instructions

Boy's relative

The boy's relative Thippeswamy Reddy said, "The parents had seen the social media post recently, and in their desperation to bring Suresh back to life, they followed the instructions. We bought around 10 kg of salt, packed the body and waited for six hours, but nothing happened."

Some villagers informed the police and doctors, who visited the village and declared the boy dead. Later, the boy was cremated at the village graveyard.

Complaint lodged against Bescom

BASED on a complaint, the Whitefield police registered a complaint against Bangalore Electricity Supply Company (Bescom). But the officials of the latter have blamed Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) for not maintaining the electric pole.

Bescom also blamed an advertising agency which installed a hoarding by using its connection and not maintaining the premise properly, a report on which was submitted to the investigation officer.

As the blame game continues, the bereaved family of Akhila is now trying to come to terms with the fact that she, the sole bread-winner of the family who had to take care of her specially-challenged younger brother, is no more.

At another level, Mahadevapura MLA, Aravind Limbavali blamed the flooding in his constituency on water gushing from Yelahanka, Hebbal and Electronic City. He has come under severe criticism on social media after TNIE tweeted a video of the MLA blaming the flooding on water gushing in from other areas.

Captain Santosh Kumar, a lake activist in Bengaluru South, said lakes and drains in Electronic City join at Bidaraguppe and enter Anekal and are no way connected with Whitefield or Varthur, which fall in Limbavali's Mahadevapura constituency, which has rampant encroachment of lake beds and storm water drains.

Two elderly women found dead after flood water enters their homes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Salem/ Krishnagiri

TRAPPED by floodwater, two elderly women were found dead on their beds in their houses early on Tuesday, hours after their localities in Salem corporation limits were flooded in overnight deluge. In another rain-related incident, a 55-year-old labourer died in Krishnagiri on Tuesday.

On receiving information about the death of the women from neighbours on Tuesday, officials rushed to the spot, retrieved their bodies and sent them to Salem Government Hospital for postmortem.

District Disaster Management officials identified the deceased as Palaniyammal, 80, resident of Dr Rathinam Street near Saminathapuram, and Rukmani, 78, resident of Govinda Goundar Thottam in Peramanur. "Both lived alone. Palaniyammal had difficulty in walking," said officials quoting sources.

Pallapatti police have booked two cases under section 174 of CrPC.

INDIAN EXPRESS IS NOT AN INDUSTRY. IT IS A MISSION.
— Ramnath Goenka

THE CHALLENGE OF BECOMING A GLOBAL MANUFACTURING HUB

It is flattering to hear the head of a global bank applaud India for unlocking its economy via a simpler tax structure and digitisation. Noel Quinn, Group CEO, HSBC, recently in the country, commended the government for lessening bureaucratic red tape and initiating reforms such as the Goods and Services Tax (GST). More specifically, Quinn pointed out that India could be a huge beneficiary of the post-Covid process of 're-globalisation' where buyers in markets like the US seek more than one source of supply to avoid dependence on traditional manufacturers like China. The banker said that India has 'all the raw material it needs' and a significant supply of labour to be a supplier to the world.

All this praise was not without reason. After all, HSBC's operations out of India reported a pre-tax profit last year of $1.11 billion. However, reading between the lines, Quinn urged India to build on a scale—construct large-scale manufacturing plants within reliable timelines; ease regulations and approval processes to make them more business-friendly, and improve supply chains and logistics for better efficiency.

But despite the window of opportunity, India cannot emerge as a significant global manufacturing hub. The fact is the ground reality is quite different from all the production and tax incentives promised to foreign investors and domestic manufacturers. From running the gauntlet of pre-production permissions to the harassment of the Tax Man, foreign companies hoping to set up a base in the country have not experienced a smooth ride. Last December, the government admitted in Parliament that as many as 2,783 foreign companies ceased operations between 2014 and November 2021. These included some big names such as Cairn Energy, Holcim, Daiichi Sankyo, Carrefour, Henkel, Harley Davidson and Ford. The inability to manage quality control is another area denting perception. The instance of Ranbaxy falling foul of the US regulator for gaining approvals for drugs by falsifying records is a classic case of low production ethics. Unless we get our regulatory systems in line with international standards, it will be difficult to emerge as a manufacturing destination of choice.

RED TAPE WON'T DRAW INVESTMENT TO ODISHA

After a two-year pandemic-induced hiatus, the Odisha government is shifting gears for the third edition of its flagship investment meet, Make in Odisha 2022. Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik interacted with ambassadors of 16 countries on August 31 in New Delhi, for partnering with the state's industrial dream. In June, at Dubai, he had set the tone for the biennial summit by holding his career's first-ever overseas investment meet. The meet promises to be a mega affair, and the Biju Janata Dal government is leaving no stone unturned to make the marquee event successful. There is much to root for Make in Odisha Conclave, which had kicked off in style in 2016, with Naveen flanked by the then Finance Minister, late Arun Jaitley, and chairman of Adani Group, Gautam Adani. The two editions generated a combined investment intent of a whopping ₹6.22 lakh crore, but the ground reality is starkly different. By the government's admission in the State Assembly, investment materialised so far stands at ₹5,674 crore, generating employment for only around 5,800 persons.

Nearly 17 years after Naveen rolled out the carpet, Odisha's story of industrialisation has left much to desire. A simple analysis shows that the state has refused to change its focus from extractive industries. The heft in investment proposals comes from expansion projects in the minerals and metallurgical sectors, while the much-talked-about ancillary and downstream industries have not taken off. Yet, there is hardly any change in the investment basket. Food processing, agro-based industries, and tourism sectors have grown slowly; pharma and automotive industries have very little to show. Bhubaneswar, which once vied for space on the national IT/ITES map, has attracted no international software companies of note—which have then taken flight elsewhere. All this points to a jaded outlook that has refused to adapt. The disappointments of big-ticket projects in the mid-2000s pegged back the industrial dream. Still, land acquisition remains a major hurdle despite the government creating a land bank.

Despite all proclamations of bringing Ease of Doing Business by eliminating red-tapism, the bane of the smug bureaucratic machinery that is not entrepreneur-friendly persists as strong as ever. Make in Odisha cannot be translated on the ground unless a fresh approach is adopted and a conducive investment scenario is created.

QUICK TAKE

PROTECTING PERSONAL RIGHTS

Can you carry the hijab to a school that prescribes a uniform, the Supreme Court asks, hearing the Karnataka hijab ban case. The question would be logical if no precedent existed. But Sikh boys do wear patkas in schools that prescribe uniforms. Two fundamental questions must then attract the court's attention. Which is a higher right—an individual's personal right to religious practice and choice or educational institutions' conditional right to prescribe uniforms sans religious gear? What about the complications arising from courts deciding essential religious practice in Islam or, say, validating a minor girl's marriage under Sharia law?

Conventional wisdom is that a crisis should never be wasted. It should be seen as an opportunity to reform. After the pontiff of one of the biggest seminaries in Karnataka was arrested on charges of sexual misconduct with minors, the focus is on the opaque world of caste seminaries in the state and the enormous power they wield. Perhaps it is time to restore the balance.

Even as harassed girls lodged a complaint and public outrage became instantly evident, top politicians, otherwise quick to tweet via their social media assassins, swore by a code of silence. Moral compunction is not something one easily associates with politicians, but in this case, it was a kind of omerta of the political class in Karnataka. They were not just weighing their words but were coldly counting votes. Caste seminaries are known to arrange favourable or destructive winds of support for a political party or a candidate in their ilakhas of influence, and assembly polls are only a few months away.

Amongst all top politicians, former chief minister B S Yediyurappa was an exception. He spoke but to put up a blind defence of the pontiff's innocence and character. The investigation had not even begun. The BJP parliamentary board member had no qualms because he thought it was his primary duty to defend a pontiff who belonged to his community. He was neither compelled by the law nor bridled by a constitutional sense.

Caste identity politics has been excessively central to electoral fortunes in Karnataka and has almost held democracy to ransom. Even before the Mandal revolution altered the power game in the rest of India, Devaraj Urs, in the 1970s, mobilised backward castes to checkmate the two dominant communities in Karnataka—Lingayats and Vokkaligas. What Urs did was pure political engineering, but B S Yediyurappa, since the new millennium, added a whole new dimension to the caste business. He used caste saffron as a shortcut to capture the votes of backward class communities. That is, he unabashedly empowered caste seminaries to do the bidding of politicians and political parties.

Lingayats were already organised. Their seminaries had been around for centuries and were autonomous and distant from the upper caste Hindu and Vedic traditions. The Vokkaligas were imitating the Lingayats in the later parts of the twentieth century. But Yediyurappa, to build a wider base for himself and the BJP, incentivised the backwards and the oppressed to expeditiously organise themselves via caste seminaries.

Now may be the time for Karnataka's political parties and politicians to limit the influence of caste seminaries in politics and steer them back to their spiritual paths

CASTE SAFFRON AND FIXING THE SOUL OF DEMOCRACY

As a chief minister, Yediyurappa was unbridled with grants and funds to these caste seminaries. He improved their access to the corridors of power, and this considerably weakened the democratic foundations and political traditions of Karnataka. He chose to promote caste saffron over the saffron of religion, which was on his party's official agenda. By doing so, Yediyurappa had turned Urs' experiment on its head and turned himself into a Mandal politician with a Hindutva air cover.

Within a short time, caste seminaries started acting as parallel power centres. That their spiritual quotient was lacking was apparent. From demanding that a particular person be offered a ticket to contest polls to suggesting that the chief minister's chair be reserved for their leader, these seminaries started speaking a language that was alarming.

The seamlessness of power between caste seminaries and political parties in Karnataka was illustrated starkly in May this year when a former BJP minister became a pontiff of the oil-tilling community. As a politician, he promoted the idea of a seminary for his community and arranged resources for it. Yediyurappa was, of course, present at the ostentatious 'sainthood-crowning' ceremony.

In recent years, it has become a norm for political dignitaries visiting the state to be chaperoned by local leaders to these caste seminaries and be photographed at the feet of the pontiffs. The classic separation between the 'church and the state' in a democracy has been destroyed in an altogether different way in Karnataka. In this experiment, the pontiff of the Murugha Math, now arrested on serious charges, has somewhat been Yediyurappa's ally.

Seminary was an idea associated primarily with Brahmins and Lingayats in Karnataka. Depending on their geographical location and historical influence, the other communities, including the backwards, followed one of the two orders for spiritual guidance. The oppressed were any way out of this.

But in the early 2000s, the state witnessed a unique sociological phenomenon when Shivamurthy Sharanaru of the Murugha Rajendra Math facilitated the creation of autonomous seminaries for the backwards and the oppressed. He ordained sainthood to chosen individuals from these communities (barbers, washermen, gypsies, cobblers, etc.). He not only solemnised them into a spiritual role in the Lingayat tradition but, like a venture capitalist, gave them a few acres of land from the rich reserves of his seminary's land bank. He perhaps imagined that these new seminaries and pontiffs would circle him in different orbits, and he could leverage that in the political sphere.

This experiment was initially seen as some empowerment of the backwards and the oppressed. Short-sighted 'progressives' read it as a counter to Sangh Parivar politics that was making the upper caste Vedic tradition aspirational for people at the bottom of the varna hierarchy. Although, in a parallel development, some other backward communities like salt-makers, goldsmiths, weavers, and forest dwellers were being steered into the Vedic fold. The Constitution speaks of correcting social and economic backwardness, but in Karnataka, spiritual backwardness had cleverly become a criterion too. This not only sharpened the caste divide but also institutionalised caste in a way that made democracy dysfunctional.

Now may be the time for Karnataka's political parties and politicians to correct this imbalance and limit caste seminaries to their chosen spiritual goals and social service. When there is doubt and anger in the minds of the voting populace, the task becomes relatively easier. Even as the Murugha Math pontiff's arrest and his reported crimes were sinking in, a backward caste pontiff hung himself to death. This is after women in a leaked audio spoke of his alleged non-spiritual interests. In recent years, nearly a dozen judges of the Karnataka High Court recused from hearing rape charges against another saffron-clad. What could their potential conflict of interest be? Before the political project to blend caste and religious saffron picks up steam, democracy's soul needs urgent fixing.

TRANSFORMATION IN EASE OF DOING BUSINESS ENVIRONMENT

CHANDRAJIT BANERJEE
Director General, Confederation of Indian Industry

Recently, a senior industry leader shared his first-hand experience of improved Ease of Doing Business (EoDB) in the country, mentioning how the allocation letter for a designated frequency band was issued within a few hours by the Department of Telecommunications. Several industry members agreed with him and social media was full of laudatory messages appreciating the increasingly facilitative investment climate in India.

There is no doubt that the business environment in the country in general is improving rapidly, thanks to the sustained efforts of the government which has prioritised this since 2014. As a testimony to this, India's Doing Business ranking, as per the latest World Bank Report, improved from a position of 142 in 2015 to 63 (out of 190 economies) in 2020. The country has continued to maintain its march to improvement, which is evident from its 6-position improvement to 37th rank (out of the 63-nation list) in 2022 on the annual World Competitiveness Index of Institute of Management Development (IMD).

At the heart of EoDB reforms in India has been an extensive focus on rationalisation and digitalisation of regulatory compliances, encompassing the entire business cycle from start to exit. Rationalisation of regulatory compliances received the topmost priority when a study in 2020 suggested that businesses in the country have to navigate over 69,000 regulatory compliances, of which 63% pertained to states, whereas the remaining were with the Central government. After 2 years, more than 33,000 compliances have been simplified, rationalised, digitised or decriminalised by Central ministries/departments and states/union territories, as per the Government's statement in Parliament. Efforts are on to sustain the exercise of rationalisation of the compliances.

Targeting to make 'Starting a Business' easier, where India stood at the 136th position in the global ranking, The Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT) in September 2021 launched the game changing National Single Window System (NSWS). NSWS seeks to provide all business approvals/clearances electronically, cutting across Central ministries/state governments in a time-bound and hassle-free manner.

Trade facilitation has also seen a flurry of reforms recently, where India's global ranking jumped up from 146th position in 2018 to 68th position in 2020. Initiatives such as the shift towards paperless compliance system, greater clearances through Risk Management System, etc. have helped lower dwell-time and transaction costs for exporters and importers. We must sustain the pace of reforms for continued digitisation and ensure speedy clearances of cargo. Introducing uniformity of customs procedures across geographical locations and enhancing the effectiveness of grievance redressal mechanisms are also important.

At the heart of EoDB reforms in India has been an extensive focus on rationalisation and digitalisation of regulatory compliances, encompassing the entire business cycle from start to exit

With a view to ease the process of enforcing contracts, where India ranked at a low 163rd position in 2020, a range of reform measures are being introduced. This includes establishment of dedicated Commercial Courts, automatic and random allocation of cases, launching of Electronic Case Management Tools, and renewed emphasis on Alternative Dispute Resolution mechanisms. As a result, the disposal time for commercial cases has reduced in the last 2 years by almost 50% to 626 days and the time taken for filing of cases and serving of summons has also come down to 15 days from 45 days, as per the website of the Ministry of Law and Justice. In parallel, the scope for litigation is being reduced by decriminalising business laws involving non-serious offenses. A long journey is still to be covered before India's enforcing contracts mechanism could be compared with the best in the world.

Easing the process of exit, the government in 2016 introduced the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC), allowing failed firms to exit painlessly either through quick liquidation or business restoration when viable. As a result, average time to resolve insolvency has declined from 4.3 to 1.6 years between 2017 and 2020.

Rigorous reform measures introduced by states/UTs as part of DPIIT's Business Reform Action Plan (BRAP) since 2014—entailing their annual assessment and rankings—have also been contributing to sustained improvement in the business environment at a pan-India level. States/UTs are working aggressively in the direction of rationalising and digitising compliances, eliminating the need for physical submission of documents, ensuring time-bound approvals, promoting joint inspections, and encouraging self/third-party certification, etc. As most of the EoDB issues pertain to states, continued focus on BRAP is important to make it a success for effective implementation of reforms.

Going forward, new areas of reforms must be identified on a regular basis, which should essentially revolve around developing an effective Single Window System for all regulatory approvals and renewals with provisions of time-bound clearances or deemed approvals, self/third-party certification for all possible areas, and stringent deterrent action for non-compliances of rules and regulations. Focus would also have to be accorded to effective delivery of benefits to the industry. The significant improvement in EoDB will certainly go a long way to improve the global competitiveness of the Indian industry and further expand our chances of attracting foreign investment.

Cyrus is no Tata

In his column, Cyrus Mistry: A corporate child of reforms (Sept 6), Alam Srinivas valiantly tries to find an equilibrium and put both Mistry and Tata on the same pedestal. Tata towers over Mistry not only physically, but humanely! This isn't to diminish Mistry's personality. May he rest in peace.

Congratulations to Liz Truss for becoming the prime minister of the UK. She must work towards strengthening the Indo-UK relations and also play a role in establishing world peace. Hopefully, she will support India's permanent membership for the UN Security Council.

Sunak's loss

It is disappointing that Rishi Sunak lost. Regardless of him being Indian-origin, it is wrong of people to assume that India would gain if he became PM. Once someone is a permanent citizen of a country, they are dedicated to that country. It's not like Sunak would have returned everything the British looted; I mean, when Kamala became the US vice-president, what did India gain?

Cases under Sec 66A of IT Act a matter of serious concern: SC

CJI-headed bench asks Centre to get in touch with Chief Secretaries of states and impress upon them to take remedial measures soon

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Tuesday observed that it was a matter of "serious concern" that cases under Section 66A of the Information Technology Act which granted the government powers of arrest for grossly offensive information posted online were still being registered irrespective of the SC scrapping it seven years ago.

A bench of CJI UU Lalit and Justice SR Bhat asked Centre to get in touch with the Chief Secretary of errant states and impress upon them to take remedial measures. Court granted the Centre three weeks to complete the exercise.

"However, there still appears some instances where the concerned provision was and has been invoked and crimes are still pending for consideration. Matter of serious concern is that despite pronouncement by SC, offences are still being registered and being continued. In circumstances we have asked Zoheb Hussain, who appears for the Union of India to get in touch with the concerned Chief Secretary of states where offenses are still being registered & stand registered and impress upon the Chief Secretary to take remedial measures as early as possible. Hussain shall be rendered due assistance by concerned advocates for the state in order to have complete assessment of the probe, Hussain shall be at liberty to write communication to CS asking for relevant information. Advocates are directed to apply information in the form of an affidavit and such material as may be. Let it be done within 3 weeks and list the matter after three weeks," the bench said in its order.

The bench also noted that no case under Section 66A was presently pending in most of the states.

"Most of the states have submitted before us that directions issued are being observed and followed and that no case is presently pending in respect of alleged offence under Section 66 A of the Act," the order also said.

The top court's order came in a plea filed by NGO People Union for Civil Liberties.

Yogi govt asked to reply on Teni son's bail plea

The Supreme Court on Tuesday sought a response from the Uttar Pradesh government on a plea filed by Ashish Mishra, son of Union Minister Ajay Mishra alias Teni, seeking bail in a case related to Lakhimpur Kheri violence in which eight persons had died. The Lucknow bench of the Allahabad High Court had on July 26 rejected the bail plea of Mishra. His plea challenging the high court order came up for hearing before a bench of Justices Indira Banerjee and M M Sundresh.

Kerala-based journalist Siddique Kappan, arrested in October 2020 on way to Hathras where a Dalit woman had died after allegedly being gang-raped, has deep links with the PFI and is part of a larger conspiracy to "incite religious discord and spread terror", UP government has told the Supreme Court. The UP govt opposed the bail plea moved by Kappan.

Shinde faction's claim on Sena may be listed

The SC on Tuesday took note of the Eknath Shinde faction's claim about the Uddhav Thackeray camp stalling the proceedings before the poll panel where the former's application staking claim over the Shiv Sena and its symbol is pending, and said it will consider listing its plea before a constitution bench. The EC is seized of a plea by the faction led by Chief Minister Eknath Shinde.

Consider prisoners' early release, UP told

The SC on Tuesday asked the UP government to follow the criteria laid down in its 2018 policy while considering within four months the issue of premature release of 512 prisoners who are serving life imprisonment and have moved the apex court. A bench of Justices D Y Chandrachud and Hima Kohli noted that the state government's 2018 policy for premature release of life convicts has been amended on July 28, 2021, and May 2022, and many provisions have been liberalised.

5-judge bench to hear 10% EWS quota from Sept 13

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE five-judge bench of the Supreme Court on Tuesday said that it would commence hearing the pleas that challenge the 10% reservation granted to the Economically Weaker Sections (EWS) for admission in central government and private educational institutions and recruitment in central government services from September 13.

A bench of CJI UU Lalit, Justices Dinesh Maheshwari, SR Bhat, Bela Trivedi & JB Pardiwala however refused to issue notice to the states but clarified that every state that wanted to argue can argue.

"Order that we've decided, we'll stick to that. Every state that wants to argue is always welcome and every state is entitled to do that," the CJI remarked. Taking note of the draft issues framed by Senior Advocate Gopal Sankaranarayanan, court asked for circulating the same and asked parties to place "crystallised version" of all the issues on Thursday (September 8).

Considering that the counsels would require 18 hours in making their arguments the bench said, "What we propose to do is, the questions which get thrown up, we may give some time extra to either side, so effectively 5 working days. 3 working days in the first week and 2 in the second week. We will begin the matter next Tuesday."

The court's order came in 39 pleas, lead one filed by Janhit Abhiyan that challenged the 103rd Constitutional Amendment that provided a 10% quota for EWS.

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

ON the second day of his visit to Delhi, Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar on Tuesday met several Opposition leaders, including Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal, CPM leader Sitaram Yechury, former Haryana CM OP Chautala, Mulayam Singh Yadav and Akhilesh Yadav among others.

After meeting Kejriwal at his residence, Kumar reiterated that he is not in the race for the Opposition's PM pick in the 2024 general elections. Kejriwal tweeted that the two leaders discussed several key issues, such as education, health and BJP's 'Operation Lotus' to topple state governments led by Opposition parties. Delhi Deputy Chief Minister Manish Sisodia and JD(U) leader Sanjay Jha were also present at the meeting, which lasted for 90 minutes.

Political observers say that the meeting assumes significance as Kejriwal and Kumar are the frontrunners for the PM post. While the AAP has been projecting Kejriwal as the leader to take on PM Narendra Modi, the Delhi CM has made it clear that he is not keen to enter into any alliance with regional parties in the 2024 elections.

The Left parties, CPM and CPI, say that Kumar's return to the Opposition fold and his efforts to bring together secular democratic parties as a great signal. After meeting Kumar at his office, CPM general secretary Sitaram Yechury said, "Nitish spoke of his commitment to uniting the secular democratic opposition to save India's Constitution. This echoes with us." Recalling his early association with CPM, Kumar said that he used to visit the office during his Delhi visits. "Today we are all together again," he said.

CPI general secretary D Raja said Kumar's efforts to unite like-minded parties to fight the BJP are in a positive direction. He said there are differences among regional parties on certain issues, but they also share common ground on various other issues. "For instance, DMK is fighting BJP in Tamil Nadu, KCR is fighting BJP in Telangana and so is RJD in Bihar," he said.

Congress to kick off 'Bharat Jodo Yatra' from Kanyakumari today

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

AIMING to revive its political fortunes, the Congress will on Wednesday kickstart the 3,500 km long 'Bharat Jodo Yatra' from Kanyakumari in Tamil Nadu on issues related to price rise, unemployment and polarisation.

The march is being held at a time when the party is facing internal strife ahead of the party's presidential elections scheduled for Oct 17. The party is looking to connect with masses through the five month long yatra that traverses through 12 states.

Former Congress leader Rahul Gandhi will take part in a prayer meeting at former prime minister Rajiv Gandhi's memorial in Sriperumbudur and will attend the launch event at Mahatma Gandhi Mandapam in Kanyakumari where Tamil Nadu Chief Minister M K Stalin will also join him.

Party president Sonia Gandhi and general secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra, who are still abroad, are expected to join the march as it progresses, said party sources.

In a video message, Priyanka appealed to people to join the march as it was needed as negative politics was being done in the country and real issues of the people were not being discussed and it will put the focus on issues of the people such as price rise and unemployment.

The Congress presidential elections will be held amidst the march and the party said that it will ensure that there will be flexibility to vote for eligible electors taking part in the march.

'Negative feedback' on 45 out of 144 seats that BJP lost in 2019 polls

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

AS it prepares ground for the next general elections, the Bharatiya Janata Party on Tuesday received "negative feedback" from 45 out of 144 identified parliamentary constituencies in the country where the party performed badly in 2019.

The party recently identified these seats across the country and divided them into clusters. A set of union ministers was involved in the "feedback-gathering exercise" from these constituencies.

The party involved prominent Union ministers, including Piyush Goyal, Dharmendra Pradhan, Bhupendra Yadav, Narendra Singh Tomar, Smriti Irani, Anurag Thakur, Mansukh Mandaviya, Jyotiraditya Scindia, Ashwini Vaishnav and others in the exercise.

> The reports were submitted at the meeting, chaired by national president JP Nadda and later discussed with party's principal strategist and Union home minister Amit Shah at a second meeting
>
> A senior BJP leader

"The reports were submitted at the meeting, chaired by national president JP Nadda and later discussed with party's principal strategist and Union home minister Amit Shah at a second meeting," said a senior party functionary, involved in the exercise.

Sources said that the party would undertake a mass outreach program to motivate the voters in favour of the party's political ideology, especially across the 45 constituencies.

The BJP got a "very negative feedback" from Bihar's Kishanganj and Nawada seats", said a senior party functionary, adding that "negative feedback also came from some LS constituencies from Maharashtra and other states".

Coming out of the first feedback meeting, a Union minister, preferring anonymity, said the negative feedback was received not only from minority-dominated LS constituencies but also a good number of non-Muslim-dominated constituencies in West Bengal, Telangana, Maharashtra, Punjab. The feedback from Uttar Pradesh was not positive either.

"In the second meeting, Amit Shah deliberated upon the feedback and asked the leaders to make wider outreach programs in these constituencies," said a BJP leader.

"A list of potential candidates for the upcoming LS elections was also submitted confidentially to the central party leadership from 144 constituencies," said a leader requesting anonymity.

"The party will prepare a detailed blueprint on the basis of feedback for the upcoming LS elections in which the party has set a target of winning at least 50 to 60 out of these 144 LS seats," an MP who attended the meeting said.

Rajnath on Mongolia visit to strengthen ties

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

IN a step to strengthen the bilateral relationship with the East Asian Countries, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh on Monday inaugurated a Cyber Security Training School in Ulaanbaatar, Mongolia.

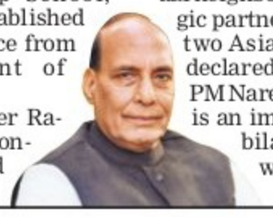
The Ministry of Defence (MoD) said in a statement: "Cyber Security Training Centre, built with assistance from Government of India was inaugurated at National Defence University in Ulaanbaatar by the Defence Minister."

The statement also added, "Rajnath Singh, along with the Minister of Education and Science of Mongolia, laid the foundation stone of the India-Mongolia Friendship School, which is being established with the assistance from the Government of India."

Defence Minister Rajnath's visit to Mongolia which started on Monday is the first-ever tour to the East Asian country by an Indian Defence Minister and is aimed to "further consolidate the defence cooperation and strategic partnership between the two countries."

On the first day of engagements of his Mongolia visit, the Defence Minister held bilateral talks with his Mongolian counterpart Lt Gen Saikhanbayar Gursed in Ulaanbaatar Tuesday. He also called on the President of Mongolia and Chairman of State Great Khural.

It may be recalled that India established diplomatic relations with Mongolia in 1955. Mongolia has declared India as a strategic partner and "spiritual neighbour". In 2015, "strategic partnership" between the two Asian democracies was declared during the visit of PM Narendra Modi. Defence is an important element of bilateral engagements with Mongolia.



Public opinion has begun to sway in favour of Cong: Venugopal

K C Venugopal, AICC general secretary (organisation) and the most trusted lieutenant of former Congress president Rahul Gandhi is evasive when it comes to interviews, especially when things are in a fluid state within the party. On the eve of Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra, 59-year old Venugopal, who was on a whirlwind tour to Thiruvananthapuram, however, spoke to TNIE's Cynthia Chandran. Excerpts:

How is the stature of the Congress going to be changed following the Bharat Jodo Yatra?

Yatra aims to further strengthen the Congress Party's connect with the common man. The most important objective of the yatra is to interact and mingle with common man from various walks of life hailing from diverse socio, economic, and cultural backgrounds. Congress has the backing of the silent majority and the public opinion is swaying in favour of Congress. Congress is going to reignite the connect with people across India through the yatra.

Earlier, Congress used to be the only alternative for the BJP. But now the Congress is having a hard time to unite the smaller parties under a common umbrella. What's the biggest challenge before the Congress as the main opposition to bring down the Modi regime?

If not Congress, who else? Congress is the only for opposition to take on the BJP nationally. The Congress led alliance will set a trend to work against the BJP. Without congress there is no opposition. Those who think they can form an effective Opposition alliance against BJP without Congress are living in a fool's paradise. Congress has been and still is the adhesive that brings together all the regional parties and the cementing factor in fighting BJP's Sangh Parivar agenda. The intrinsic ability of Congress to attract regional parties and inspire their loyalty and trust to keep the flock together against BJP's money power politics. In the 90s and after we have seen experiment after experiment failing without congress. In UPA, Congress was the leading party and we have seen how congress had accommodated all regional parties in a broad manner and both the terms of UPA was cordially concluded. In the imminent Congress presidential election, the party is seeing it in a broadminded way and transparent manner.

You have been instrumental in launching several nationwide agitations against the BJP Government's fuel price hike. But except in a few places like Delhi and Kerala, the agitation had not created any ripples, especially in North Eastern States. When this is the case, how can the Congress emerge stronger?

It's grossly incorrect to say the agitation launched against price hike or fuel price hike is only confined to a few pockets like Delhi and Kerala. The agitation had, indeed, gained momentum across India, including large states like UP etc. with very visible and significant public participation. Unfortunately a section of the media has chosen to suppress such stories buckling under pressures from the BJP government. Never before has the media was controlled by any political party. One of the objectives of Bharat Jodo Yatra is to highlight the simmering discontent and unspoken anguish against the establishment over the relentless price hike.

Your intervention in the day to day affairs of the KPCC's organisational powers has always come under scrutiny. Has it posed serious challenges before you to stay away from your home state?

The functioning of KPCC is the responsibility of the local state leadership and KPCC has an efficient and able leadership, capable of resolving the state issues here. I don't interfere in any of the state issues unless asked or requested by the KPCC leadership. To help them coordinate with high command AICC has appointed a General Secretary in charge of the state, that's Tariq Anwar. He has been discharging his duties in an impeccable manner. I'm not involved in any manner.

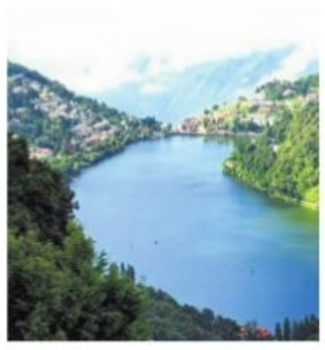
U'khand panel proposes land laws for 'outsiders'

Plans: Strict norms for buying land and dilute powers of DMs

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun



The Uttarakhand government will study a committee's recommendations aimed at balancing the investment needs of the state with curbing the unchecked land transactions involving "outsiders".

Some of the 23 recommendations contained in the 80-page report are on the lines of Himachal Pradesh and were submitted to Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami on Monday.

The committee has recommended stringent action against those who encroach on public land to erect buildings or religious structures on them. The committee is headed by former chief secretary Subhash Kumar. Its members include Badrinath-Kedarnath Temple Committee president Ajendra Ajay and retired IAS officers Arun Dhaundiyal and D S Garbyal.

Surprisingly, the committee has recommended overturning all land law amendments of the former CM Trivendra Singh Rawat government.

Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami has vowed to implement the land laws strictly in the state. "Considering the recommendations of the committee in the larger public interest and state interest, the state government will amend the land law," Dhami said.

"The panel has given various recommendations. We are not stopping anyone from coming here; we are not stopping investors either. However, the land of Uttarakhand should not be misused. Several complaints of misuse have come to us," Dhami said.

The main recommendations of the committee include taking away the power of district magistrates (DMs) to grant permission to buyers for buying agricultural land and land to set up micro, small and medium enterprises (MSME).

It has often been seen that permission granted by DMs for buying agricultural land is misused by buyers to build resorts and private bungalows that do not create jobs for locals and render people in the hills landless, the report said.

The power of granting permission for buying land for setting up MSME projects should also be taken away from the DMs and vested in the state administration as in Himachal Pradesh, it said.

The committee recommended putting an end — both in hills as well as in the plains — to the practice of the government allocating more than 12.05 acres of land to an institution/firm/company or individual for industrial purposes, Ayush, education, health, medical education, horticulture, processing units, tourism and agriculture.

Instead, a system of allocating land for such purposes on the basis of an Essentiality Certificate should be adopted as is prevalent in Himachal Pradesh, it said. Besides big industries, such allocations should be made to four and five-star hotels, resorts, multi-speciality hospitals, and vocational or professional institutes only, it added.

According to the recommendations, an individual will not need any permission for buying up to 250 sqm of land for residential purposes.

SIT questions Sukhbir Badal in '15 Kotkapura police firing case

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

THE Punjab SIT probing the 2015 police firing involving a desecration case questioned SAD chief and former deputy CM Sukhbir Singh Badal on Tuesday for about three hours. Two Sikh youths protesting sacrilege in Kotkapura's Behbal Kalan town died when the police resorted to firing.

Sukhbir alleged that the AAP government is playing politics in the case for petty gains.

The SIT is focusing on whether Sukhbir or then CM Parkash Singh Badal gave the nod to the police to use force against a mob protesting a series of sacrilege incidents in the state.

Sukhbir reached the venue for questioning along with his lawyers and SAD leaders Daljit Singh Cheema and MLA Sukhwinder Sukhi. Many party workers were also present outside the barricaded building.

This is the first time that he has been summoned for questioning in the case since AAP came to power early this year.

After his questioning, Sukhbir said the AAP government is not interested in punishing the culprits. "Punjabis want all culprits caught and punished but the AAP is following in the footsteps of the previous Congress government and politicising the probe," he said.

Jolt to Bihar govt as Centre gives measly MNREGA allotment

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

BIHAR was allotted only 2.5 crore man-days under the MNREGA scheme by the Centre against the state's demand for 12 crore work-days for year 2022-23, attracting sharp reaction from the ruling alliance.

JD-U MLC and spokesperson Neeraj Kumar said it is shocking how the Centre discriminated against Bihar after Chief Minister Nitish Kumar walked out of the NDA, "It also shows how Modi government's rural development model works," he added.

JD-U flays Centre

Neeraj Kumar of JD-U said it is shocking how the Centre discriminated against Bihar after Nitish left NDA. "It shows how Modi government's rural model works," he said.

The Centre had given its consent to allot 15 crore man-days to Bihar during 2022-23. In the first week of August itself, over 14 lakh man-days were generated. In view of it, the state rural development department had sought additional 12 crore man-days from the Centre so that MNREGA workers do not face any problem if even the target of generating 15 crore man-days was met.

In the beginning, Nitish government had proposed to the Centre to allot 25 crore man-days under MNREGA for 2022-23 but only 15 crore man-days were sanctioned. The Centre had assured that it would be increased later.

In 2021-22, the Centre had allotted 20 crore man-days under MNREGA, against which 18.20 crore man-days were generated. In 2020-21, 22.79 crore man-days were created.

Meanwhile, The Bihar government will start the caste-based census by October-end, delayed by nearly a month, amid BJP's concerns over Rohingyas and Bangladeshis being counted in the controversial exercise.

The delay in conducting the caste-based census as well as economic enumeration is due to the impending civic body polls in the state.

Preparations have gathered pace for the exercise to be conducted by the general administration department. All castes and sub-castes of across all religions will be counted during the census.

State govt shifts focus to Bathinda

The AAP-led government in Punjab has suddenly shifted its focus towards Bathinda, the largest district in south Punjab as no MLA from here could get a cabinet berth. Now, four novice party leaders — Anil Thakur, Navdeep Jeeda, Rakesh Puri from Bathinda (Urban) constituency and Inderjit Singh Mann from Rampura Phul — have been appointed heads of different boards and corporations in the state government. In the previous governments of both the SAD and the Congress, at least two cabinet ministers were from this district. Also Bathinda is the pocket borrow of the Badal family. On Thursday, Punjab CM Bhagwant Mann visited the district, and the administration termed it an 'unofficial' visit.

Barbed fence to shun protestors at CM home

Before coming to power, the AAP used to say that there is no need for tight security, but now barbed fencing at the private residence of Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann in Sangrur has not gone down too well with the local residents. The fencing has been put to keep protestors at bay, and security around the house has been tightened. Local residents say that this move will backfire as fear psychosis has been created by setting up the barricades. Before the assembly elections, Mann and his party colleagues used to claim that after coming to power, protests would end as they would fulfil all the demands of the voters.

AAP keeps mum on violence against women

The AAP, which keeps on speaking on women's rights, has chosen to keep mum on the issue of marital discord of two of its MLAs. A 50-second video of two-time AAP MLA from Talwandi Sabo, Baljinder Kaur, being slapped by her husband in public has gone viral. The couple can be seen arguing in the video in which Sukhraj Singh suddenly slaps Kaur. She has not filed any complaint. In another incident, AAP MLA Harmeet Singh Pathanmajra's second wife has lodged a complaint at the Zirakpur police station accusing the MLA of hiding his first marriage. The Punjab and Haryana HC has issued notice to the Punjab Police in the case of Pathanmajra.

India's first intranasal Covid vaccine gets regulator's nod

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Drugs Controller General of India (DCGI) on Tuesday approved Bharat Biotech's intranasal Covid vaccine, BBV154, for restricted emergency use by people above 18 years of age. The Hyderabad-based Bharat Biotech claimed its clinical trials among about 4,000 volunteers did not see any side effects or adverse reactions.

"Big Boost to India's Fight Against Covid-19! Bharat Biotech's COVID-19 recombinant nasal vaccine approved by DCGI for primary immunization against COVID-19 in 18+ age group for restricted use in emergency situation," Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya tweeted.

Bharat Biotech said the vaccine has been specifically formulated for intranasal delivery.

"Being an intranasal vaccine, BBV154 may produce local antibodies in the upper respiratory tract. These may provide the potential to reduce infection and transmission. Further studies are being planned," the company said. The nasal delivery system would be cost-effective, it added.

Youth Cong chief & gen secy join BJP in Gujarat

Ahmedabad: Former Gujarat Congress Youth president Vishwanath Singh Vaghela, general secretary Vinay Singh Tomar, and several other youth leaders joined the BJP on Monday. Vaghela had resigned from the Congress post on Sept. 4, ahead of Rahul Gandhi's visit to Gujarat. Soon after, he was seen with BJP state president CR Patil and Union Minister Anurag Thakur in Ahmedabad.Tomar resigned on Monday. After joining the BJP, Vaghela told the media, "After becoming the Youth Congress president, I tried to change the party but I was not allowed to work freely. A conspiracy to finish me was going on for 3-4 months to give a big post to Siddharth Sharma.

Amid buzz of Gehlot's move to Delhi, Pilot show of strength in Rajasthan

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

AMID speculation over Rajasthan CM Ashok Gehlot emerging as the non-Gandhi Congress party chief, the loyalists in the party appear to have intensified their campaign to retain the party's first family at the helm.

The Congress is taking out the 'Bharat Jodo Yatra' across the country from Wednesday to sound the bugle against the Modi government. However, the suspense remains on who will be the party's next president.

On his part, Gehlot has repeatedly asked Rahul Gandhi to take the top post. Now, Rajya Sabha MP Pramod Tiwari, who is close to Priyanka, has said that it will be "fine if the party is led by someone in the Gandhi family."

Amid discussions centering on a non-Gandhi being made the party president or the party's Number 2, Tiwari said that whenever the Gandhi family did not lead the party, it had faced the danger of fragmentation.

Talking to the media at the Congress headquarters, Tiwari said: "The schedule for the election of the Congress chief has been announced. Whoever wants can file one's nomination and the Congress will elect him. But on a personal level, I want to say that the Gandhi family should lead the party."

On whether it should be Rahul or Priyanka for the top post, Tiwari said, "The Gandhi family means the entire Gandhi family. Therefore, any of its members can be asked to lead."

Gehlot had a big role in sending Tiwari to the Rajya Sabha from Rajasthan. Out of four seats, the Congress had only two winning votes and the BJP had enough votes to ensure a win for one candidate. The Congress fielded Tiwari as the third candidate, while the BJP had supported independent Subhash Chandra. Due to Gehlot's political skills, Tiwari won and Chandra lost.

It is clear from Tiwari's statement that Gehlot is not ready to leave the CM's chair and go to Delhi. His supporters say if he is asked to lead the party, he will do so, but will also "perform his duties as the CM."

Ever since speculation grew over Gehlot's new role in Delhi, there has been a demand for making Sachin Pilot the CM. On Tuesday, on his 46th birthday, Pilot supporters made a big show in Jaipur. The state Congress headquarters and Pilot's residence at Civil Lines were littered with posters and hoardings of Sachin Pilot. Those who came to his residence to wish him included 21 ministers and MLAs.

After the announcement of the election of the Congress chief about 10 days back, the Pilot faction has been more active. "Sachin Pilot played a crucial role in bringing Congress government in the state. How long would you test his patience?" asked Indraj Gurjar, MLA from Virat Nagar assembly seat.

Seer's comment on Lord Shiva triggers outrage in Guj

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

SADHU Anand Sagar Swami of the Prabodha Swami group created a massive controversy in Gujarat when he made an 'insulting' address about Lord Shiva in a Satsang meeting held in the honour of Prabodha Swami in the city of Boston, America.

In the Satsang meeting, Anand Sagar Swami from Swaminarayan sect spoke about a boy Nishit, a student of 'Atmiya Dham', run by Sokhda Sanstha in Anand district. He said that Prabodha Swami told Nishit to go to the gate of 'Atmiya Dham' at night. Nishit saw Shiva waiting outside the gate.

In the video, the seer is seen saying that when Shiva was waiting outside the door of 'Atmiya Dham', Nishit told him to come with him and meet Prabodha Swami. But Shiva refused to come, saying that my piety has not grown up to that level that I can see the holy image of Prabodha swami. Shiva, instead, touched Nishit's feet and left.

"Prabodh Swami is bigger than Shiva", the sentence has hurt the religious sentiments of the people, monks and saints across Gujarat. Mahamandleshwar Narendra Bapu condemned the statement.

On his b'day, PM to celebrate transfer of cheetahs from Namibia to Kuno

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi is going to celebrate his 72nd birthday on September 17 amid some prized visitors to the country. He will be in the jungles of Kuno National Park (KNP) in Madhya Pradesh, inaugurating perhaps the world's first inter-continental cheetah translocation project. The fastest animal on the earth, which became extinct in India seven decades ago, will be reintroduced to the country by Sept 16, when eight cheetahs arrive from Namibia.

Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan announced the development in Bhopal on Tuesday.

"It's matter of joy for all of us that the PM will be in MP on his birthday. And to add further to that joy, he will be inaugurating the reintroduction of cheetahs from Africa project at the Kuno National Park in Sheopur district," Chouhan said.

As per sources, seven helipads are being prepared in and around the KNP, which is spread in a 750 sq km area, to ensure hassle-free landing of the cheetahs as well as work for Modi's arrival.

Also, all hotels and restaurants around the national park have been booked by the government during Sept. 14-20.

As per forest department sources, 8-12 cheetahs, including four-five females, have been vaccinated and quarantined for a month in Namibia as part of preparations to airlift them to India. Eight of them will be brought in the first lot. Once at Kuno, they will be kept in a 500-hectare enclosure for two-three months before being freed into the wild.

A team of experts from South Africa and the Wildlife Institute of India have also apparently arrived at Kuno for working on the translocation of cheetahs from South Africa in the next few months.

The animal became extinct in India in 1952 due to extensive hunting.

Though the Cheetah Reintroduction Project in India was conceived in 2009, it had to wait for the Supreme Court's clearance to the National Tiger Conservation Authority's plea. In January 2020, the apex court gave its nod for reintroducing the extinct species in India. Nine months later, KNP was selected as the most ideal site, out of six shortlisted sites. However, the process was delayed due to the outbreak of the pandemic.

Black magic: 15 held after 3 women killed

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

FIFTEEN people, nine of them named accused, have been arrested for killing three elderly women in a Ranchi village on Saturday. As per the police, the villagers allegedly killed the three with kicks and sticks after accusing them of practising black magic. Their bodies were dumped near the village.

After getting a tip-off about the incident on Sunday, the dead bodies were recovered from Sonahatu village.

According to the police, a Special Investigation Team has been formed under Bundu DSP Ajay Kumar and over 100 police personnel were deployed to make the arrests. The accused were hiding inside jungles and nearby villages, they said.

The FIR was lodged at Sonahtatu Police Station against 12 named and 16 unknown persons on Monday by the nephew of a victim, Surendra Munda.

Assam: A 'library on trees' to draw school students to world of books

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR
@ Guwahati

NISHA Goala's favourite place to read is under the 'bhomora' tree (Belleric myrobalan) – she "plucks" out her favourite book and buries herself into it.

The 'tree library' is an attempt by the Jorhat chapter of the NGO JCI Femina to make reading interesting for kids.

The library, set up at the Girls' High School in Mariani, has comics, novels, autobiographies and other books in Assamese, Hindi and English.

"We took permission from the school, and hired a carpenter and used household waste material, largely containers, to make shelves. The library with 600 books was launched on Sept. 3," NGO president Dipika Poddar Poddar said.

JCI Femina secretary Shivani Agarwal said they spent around ₹15,000 to set it up.

The school is planning to allot a teacher for the library, Tanti said. Children are elated with the project. "I always love to read books on great people. The library has plenty of them," said Nisha, a class X student of the school, which has 422 students.

However, the idea is inviting concern from environmentalists. Saying that the concept is good but the trees could have been spared, environmentalist Mridu Paban Phukon, added, "They could have set it up on a bamboo or metal pole. Nails used to fix the book shelves will have an adverse impact on the trees. They could have used ropes," Phukon added, pointing out that paints on the trees can harm the ecosystem of ants and insects.

Challenges ahead of the newly elected Britain PM

LONDON

THE incoming prime minister faces a daunting to-do list, with the UK in the grip of its worst economic crisis in decades, with double-digit inflation and skyrocketing gas and electricity bills.

British media reported on Tuesday that she would freeze energy bills for hard-pressed households and business which could cost some $116 billion.

She is expected to unveil her plan on Thursday.

Amidst all the upcoming challenges that she face, in her first speech, she said, "I know that we have what it takes to tackle those challenges. Of course, it won't be easy, but we can do it. We will transform Britain into an aspiration nation with high paying jobs, safe streets and where everyone everywhere has the opportunities they deserve."

She further added, "I will take action this day and action every day to make it happen. United with our allies, we will stand up for freedom and democracy around the world. Recognising that we can't have security at home without having security abroad." Agencies

TRUSS PROMISES TO RIDE OUT THE ECONOMIC STORM

LONDON

LIZ Truss on Tuesday promised that Britain would see sunnier days ahead despite the current economic gloom, as she made her first speech as prime minister after taking over from Boris Johnson.

Heavy rain and thunder forced supporters of the country's third female prime minister to scramble for cover as they waited for her to arrive in Downing Street.

But the clouds lifted as the 47-year-old former foreign secretary's motorcade swept in, and she vowed that the country would 'ride out the storm' of double-digit inflation and soaring energy prices.

"I will take action this week to deal with energy bills and to secure our future energy supply," she said. "As strong as the storm may be, I know that the British people are stronger," she added, outlining her priorities as the economy, energy and health.

Truss on Tuesday officially became Britain's new prime minister, at an audience with head of state Queen Elizabeth II after the resignation of Boris Johnson.

The former foreign secretary, was seen in an official photograph shaking hands with the monarch to accept her offer to form a new government and become the 15th prime minister of her 70-year reign.

The symbolic ceremony took place at the sovereign's remote Balmoral retreat in the Scottish Highlands, as the queen, 96, was deemed unfit to return to London due to ill health. Agencies

US says Russia may buy rockets, artillery shells from N Korea

WASHINGTON

THE Russian Ministry of Defense is in the process of purchasing millions of rockets and artillery shells from North Korea for its ongoing fight in Ukraine, according to a newly downgraded US intelligence finding.

A US official, who spoke on the condition of anonymity to discuss the intelligence determination, said that the fact Russia is turning to the isolated state of North Korea demonstrates that "the Russian military continues to suffer from severe supply shortages in Ukraine, due in part to export controls and sanctions."

US intelligence officials believe that the Russians could look to purchase additional North Korean military equipment in the future. The intelligence finding was first reported by The New York Times.

The US official did not detail how much weaponry Russia intends to purchase from North Korea.

The finding comes after the Biden administration recently confirmed that the Russian military in August took delivery of Iranian-manufactured drones for use on the battlefield in Ukraine.

The White House said last week that Russia has faced technical problems with Iranian-made drones acquired from Tehran in August for use in its war with Ukraine.

Russia picked up Mohajer-6 and Shahed-series unmanned aerial vehicles over several days last month as part what the Biden administration says is likely part of a Russian plan to acquire hundreds of Iranian UAVs for use in Ukraine.

North Korea has sought to tighten relations with Russia as much of Europe and the West has pulled away, blaming the United States for the Ukraine crisis and decrying the West's 'hegemonic policy' as justifying military action by Russia in Ukraine to protect itself.

The North's arms export to Russia would be a violation of UN resolutions that ban the country from exporting to or importing weapons from other countries. AP

Police hunt remaining suspect in stabbing

WELDON

CANADIAN police hunted for the remaining suspect in the stabbing deaths of 10 people in an Indigenous community and nearby town in the province of Saskatchewan after finding the body of his brother amid a massive manhunt for the pair.

Damien Sanderson, 31, was found dead on Monday near the stabbing sites and authorities believe his brother and fellow suspect, Myles Sanderson, 30, is injured, on the run and likely in the provincial capital of Regina, said police chief Evan Bray. The series of stabbings also wounded 18 people.

RCMP Commanding Officer Assistant Commissioner Rhonda Blackmore said authorities are not sure of the cause of death yet but the injuries were not self-inflicted.

"Damien Sanderson's body was located outdoors in a heavily grassed area in proximity to a house that was being examined. We can confirm he has visible injuries," said Blackmore. Asked if Myles Sanderson was responsible for his brother's death, Blackmore said police are investigating that possibility, but "we can't say that definitively at this point in time.

Leaders of the James Smith Cree Nation, where most of the stabbing attacks took place, blamed the killings on the drug and alcohol abuse plaguing the community, which they said was a legacy of the colonisation of Indigenous people.

Blackmore said police were still determining the motive, but the chief of the Federation of Sovereign Indigenous Nations echoes suggestions the stabbings could be drug-related.

"This is the destruction we face when harmful illegal drugs invade our communities, and we demand all authorities to take direction from the chiefs and councils and their membership to create safer and healthier communities for our people," said Chief Bobby Cameron. AP

Putin watches military drills with China

USSURIYSK: President Vladimir Putin attended large-scale military exercises on Tuesday involving China and several Russia-friendly countries, as Moscow seeks to strengthen partnerships in Asia in the face of Western sanctions. Putin on Tuesday attended the Vostok-2022 manoeuvres that are being held in training grounds in Russia Far East and in the waters off its eastern coast. Putin was meeting with Defence Minister Sergei Shoigu and military chief of staff Valery Gerasimov at the Sergeyevsky military range Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov told local news agencies. The drills, involving Russia's neighbours, as well as Syria, India and key ally China, started on September 1 and are due to end Wednesday. AFP

Moody's retains India rating with stable outlook

Credit profile and stable outlook reflect high growth potential, it says

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

WHILE rating agency Moody's on Tuesday retained India's Baa3 (stable) credit rating with a stable outlook, it sees India's low per capita income and high general government debt as major risks in the future.

The agency said in its latest rating update that India's still low incomes limit households' capacity to absorb domestic, external or weather related shocks. As per the rating agency, India's per capita income increased to about $7,300 on a purchasing power parity-adjusted basis in 2021 from nearly $4,500 in 2011, but remains much lower than the Baa-rated median of more than $27,000 in 2021.

It says Indian households' limited capacity to absorb shocks could exacerbate stresses from uneven distribution of income given large proportion of the labour force is employed in the informal and agriculture sector.

Moody's report in a nutshell

- Moody's estimates India's real GDP growth at 7.6% in 2022
- It holds low per capita income and high general government debt as major risks in the future
- India's per capita income at $7,300 (PPP basis) much lower than $27,000 for similar-rated peers
- India's debt burden to stabilise around 80% of the GDP in 2022, 2023
- India's economy is highly exposed to climate change risks

Moody's also highlighted that India's economy is highly exposed to climate change risks. It cites India's excessive dependence on monsoon for agriculture, excessive use of groundwater and rising temperatures as key risks in near future.

On high government indebtedness, the rating agency said the country's general government debt burden is higher and debt affordability is lower compared with Baa-rated peers. Though it believes that general government debt burden has peaked at nearly 84% of GDP in the fiscal year ending March 2021, up from pre-pandemic levels of about 70% in fiscal 2018.

It sees India's debt burden stabilising around 80% of the GDP, which is still higher than similarly-rated countries. However, the agency feels that India's stable domestic financing base and high savings would mitigate fiscal risks posed by high government debt and weak debt affordability.

On the positive side, Moody's said India's credit profile and stable outlook reflect high growth potential of its large and diversified economy, a relatively strong external position, and a stable domestic financing base for government debt.

The agency further says that the country's stable outlook reflects the receding impact of the risks from negative feedback between the economy and financial system.

JAPAN

FINMIN SAYS WATCHING RISING FX VOLATILITY

Japanese Finance Minister Shunichi Suzuki on Tuesday reiterated that sharp yen moves were "undesirable" and that he was watching rising volatility in the exchange market with a great sense of urgency as currency hit a 24-year low. It was Suzuki's latest verbal warning on the currency but it was not considered as strong as comments made in July, when a fall beyond 139 to the dollar prompted him to say he was "concerned". The yen on Tuesday weakened beyond 141 yen per dollar for the first time since 1998, last trading at 141.17 per dollar. It has slumped nearly 20% since the start of the year, on diverging monetary policies between Japan and the United States. While the Bank of Japan has vowed to stick to powerful monetary stimulus to back a fragile economy, the Federal Reserve is expected to continue raising rates for the time being. When pressed to comment on the impact of a weak yen on the economy, Suzuki said "a weak yen has both merit and demerit, but sharp moves are undesirable."

CHINA

'TO STRENGTHEN SYSTEM IN CORE TECH BREAKTHROUGHS'

China will strengthen its state-led system to achieve breakthroughs of core technologies, state media quoted President Xi Jinping as saying on Tuesday, amid tensions with the US. China will improve its mechanism for core technology development and strengthen the ruling Communist Party's leadership in tech innovations, state media quoted Xi as saying at a top-level meeting. Top leaders at the meeting passed guidelines to improve the country's "new whole-nation system" in driving breakthroughs in core technologies. China should rely on market mechanisms, improve resource allocation and focus on national strategies, Xi said. China has unveiled a "new whole-nation system", counting on China's political system to pool national resources to support tech projects and break foreign "stranglehold", drawing on past successes in developing nuclear bombs in the 1960s.

EMERGING ASIA EQUITIES SEE MASSIVE MONTHLY INFLOW

Emerging Asian equities ex-China saw massive foreign purchases in August due to a rise in risk appetite based on tempered inflation expectations. Data from stock exchanges in South Korea, India, Taiwan, the Philippines, Vietnam, Indonesia and Thailand showed foreigners had bought equities worth a net $7.54 billion, marking their biggest monthly net buying since December, 2020. Despite the net foreign purchasing of the past two months, regional equities have seen foreign outflows of more than $60 billion so far this year. Driven by rising interest rates and consequently diminishing risk appetite, that has been the biggest outflow from the region since the global financial crisis in 2008. Flows into South Korean equities jumped to a nine-month high of $3.01 billion. Thai and Indonesian equities also gained foreign inflows - worth $1.6 billion and $510 million, respectively.

Number of demat accounts crosses 10 crore mark

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

WITH increased participation of first-time retail investors post the onset of covid-19 pandemic in March 2020, the number of demat accounts crossed 10 crore mark for the first time in August 2022.

This is a jump of more than two times given the total number of demat accounts stood at 4.09 crore in March 2020, the month of covid-19 outbreak, according to data released by depository firms National Securities Depository Limited (NDSL) and Central Depository Services (CDSL).

Among the two depositories, CDSL had 7.16 crore demat accounts, while NSDL had 2.89 crore demat accounts as of August 31. However NSDL, which is dominated by institutional investors, had AUC (assets under custody) of ₹320 lakh crore compared to just ₹38.50 lakh crore in case of CDSL.

"While we witnessed a substantial increase in demat accounts in the past two years, it is equally important to note that NSDL's custody value increased from ₹174 lakh crore in April 2020 to ₹306 Lakh crore (4 trillion $) in July 2022, which indicates participation from both retail and institutional investors," said Prashant Vagal, executive vice-president at NSDL.

There is not one but several factors that have triggered the surge in new demat accounts. However, none is as important as millions of millennials entering the equity market via zero brokerage trading platforms where opening a demat account is as easy as it gets.

Then the poor returns given by debt and other asset classes, which most times fail to beat inflation rate, pushed investors to go for equities. The IPO mania of 2021 and a couple of strong rallies in the past two year brought a large number of fresh investors.

According to some estimates, the share of retail investors in companies listed on the NSE reached an all-time high of 7.42%, valued at ₹19.2 lakh crore, in March 2022.

Flipkart ventures into hotel-booking business

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

AHEAD of the festive season, Walmart-backed ecommerce firm Flipkart on Tuesday launched its new hotel-booking feature, Flipkart Hotels. This comes more than a year after Flipkart's acquisition of travel booking portal Cleartrip.

Flipkart said customers can book hotel rooms across 3 lakh domestic and international hotels. Backed by Cleartrip's API (application programming interface), Flipkart Hotels will benefit from Cleartrip's understanding of travel customers and sectors.

Available on the Flipkart app, Flipkart Hotels aims to provide improved service to its customers. With a surge in demand - both in the domestic as well as international accommodation market - the travel industry has been gaining traction in recent months.

"New travel trends like exploring lesser-known destinations, workations, long stays, and vacation rentals are becoming mainstream. These developments are giving a boost to the travel industry. Given 70% growth in the last quarter compared to a CAGR of 60% over the last two years, the next festive quarter is expected to be even better for the overall travel industry," Flipkart said.

Recently, the ecommerce firm launched Flipkart Flights. Adarsh Menon, senior vice-president at Flipkart, said, "Flipkart Flight is on a steady path of growth in the travel industry since we entered this space. With Flipkart Hotels, we are strengthening our commitment to provide a better experience and superior service to our customers across metros and beyond tiers."

Govt sets up panel to review gas pricing formula

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE government has set up a committee to review the pricing formula for locally produced gas to ensure a fair price to the end consumer.

The panel will review the pricing of gas produced by companies like ONGC and Reliance Industries as it looks to moderate the steep increase that producers would have otherwise got.

The committee under former planning commission member Kirit S Parikh will suggest a "fair price to the end consumer", according to an order of the oil ministry. The panel, which will include representatives of the gas producers association as also producers ONGC and OIL, has been asked to submit its report by the month-end.

It also has a member from private city gas operators, state gas utility GAIL, a representative of Indian Oil Corporation (IOC) and a member from the fertiliser ministry, the order said. The government had in 2014 used prices in gas surplus countries to arrive at a formula for locally-produced gas. The rates, according to this formula, were subdued and at times lower than the cost of production till March 2022 but rose sharply thereafter, reflecting the surge in global rates in the aftermath of Russia's invasion of Ukraine.

1mg turns unicorn after raising $40 million

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

TATA-OWNED online pharmacy start-up 1mg has joined the unicorn club with a fresh funding round of over $40 million. The round was led by Tata Digital.

With this round, the start-up is now valued at $1.25 billion.

Start-ups that are valued at $1 billion or above are called unicorns.

Tata Digital has infused over $30 million in the latest round. Apart from 1mg, Pristyn Care, PharmEasy, Innovaccer, Axtria and Curefit are other healthtech start-ups that turned into unicorns.

Also, 1mg has become the country's 107th unicorn after logistics start-up Shiprocket that entered the unicorn club last month.

In June 2021, Tata Digital acquired a majority stake in 1mg. Though the deal amount was not disclosed, it is said that Tata Digital acquired nearly 62% stake in the online pharmacy start-up. While investing in 1mg, Tata

Digital had said that e-pharmacy, e-diagnostics and teleconsultation are critical segments and have been among the fastest-growing segments in this space. Founded in 2015 by Prashant Tandon, Vikas Chauhan and Gaurav Aggarwal, 1mg delivers medicines and other health products to over 1,800 cities across the country. It also provides diagnostic services. It has delivered over 31 million orders so far.

The pandemic has accelerated innovation in the health-tech sector. According to a report by advisory firm RBSA Advisors, the health-tech market in India is expected to grow at a 39% CAGR over FY2020-FY2023.

South Korean carmaker Hyundai expects 2022 to be its best year

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ NewDelhi

SOUTH KOREA's Hyundai, which is facing tough competition from homegrown auto major Tata Motors to maintain its status of India's second-largest carmaker, expects this year to be its best-ever year of sales, as it looks to produce more with easing of chip supply concerns.

The company had logged best-ever domestic wholesales of 5.50 lakh units in 2018 and over the last couple of months it is dispatching around 49,000 units to dealers across India.

Hyundai had sold 5.10 lakh units in 2019 when India's auto market was hit by slowdown in economic activity, 4.23 lakh units in covid-hit 2020 and 5.05 lakh units in 2021. This year, between January and August, the Creta and Venue SUV-maker sold around 3.68 lakh units.

"The semiconductor situation is easing and demand continues to be robust...This year we are fairly confident that we will achieve the highest ever domestic sales in the history of the company in India," said Tarun Garg, Hyundai Motor India director-sales, marketing, service. Hyundai, besides the country's top carmaker Maruti Suzuki, is one of the companies in the domestic market that suffered substantial production loss due to chip shortage.

Garg noted that the contribution of its SUV lineup to the total sales was going up and remained better than the industry's. The company sells five models in the SUV segment — Venue, Creta, Alcazar, Tucson and Kona Electric.

Adani Group firm to supply power to Bangladesh

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

ADANI POWER, a subsidiary of Adani Group, will supply power to Bangladesh from its upcoming power project in Jharkhand by December 16, 2022.

Adani Power has set up a 1,600 MW thermal power plant in Godda of Jharkhand to supply power to Bangladesh Power Development Board (BPDB) through a transmission line. "It is an honour to have met the PM of Bangladesh, Sheikh Hasina, in Delhi. Her vision for Bangladesh is inspirational and stunningly bold. We are committed to commissioning 1,600 MW Godda power project and dedicated transmission line to Bangladesh by Bijoy Dibosh, Dec 16, 2022," said Gautam Adani, Chairman of Adani Group.

Bangladesh is India's biggest trade partner in South Asian region and the bilateral trade has grown from $9 billion to $18 billion between 2018 and 2022. It has become the fourth-largest export destination for India with the exports registering a growth of over 66% from $9.69 billion in 2020-21 to $16.15 billion in 2021-22.

The project is significant as Bangladesh has been recognised as an important partner under India's 'Neighbourhood First' policy.

Narendra Modi government had promised to offer support to neighbouring countries for trade and commerce, power and energy, transport and connectivity, science and technology, defence, rivers, and maritime affairs.

Petrus Elbers IndiGo's new chief executive officer

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

PETRUS ELBERS has joined IndiGo as the chief executive officer (CEO) with effect from Tuesday. Elbers replaced Ronojoy Dutta, 71, who is set to retire on September 30, 2022.

The change of guards at India's largest carrier comes at a time when competition in the civil aviation space is expected to heat up with the arrival of budget carrier Akasa Air and a renewed Air India under the cash-rich Tata Group (which also operates Vistara and AirAsia India).

Prior to joining IndiGo, Elbers served as the president and chief executive officer of KLM Royal Dutch Airlines and also as a member of the executive committee of the Air France ' KLM Group.

Year 2022 has been quite turbulent for IndiGo. In early February, the airline appointed co-founder Rahul Bhatia as managing director with immediate effect then in mid-February, co-founder Rakesh Gangwal tendered his resignation from the company's board, giving a fresh twist to the long tussle between the two promoters. In recent times, the airline faced massive criticism following its employees' protest over salary restoration and a section of cabin crew queuing up to join Air India that delayed a large number of its flights.

According to industry experts, Elbers will have a challenging task in defending IndiGo's 55-58% share in the domestic market and guiding the airline to become a major player in Asian and European market. Add to this, he will have to restore employees' confidence in the airline and churn profit despite record rise in jet fuel prices.

RIL to buy majority stake in SenseHawk for $32 mn

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

RELIANCE INDUSTRIES LTD (RIL) acquired a majority stake in SenseHawk Inc for a transaction value of $32 million, including funding for future growth, commercial rollout of products and research & development.

RIL said the transaction is subject to certain regulatory and other customary closing conditions and is expected to complete before the end 2022.

"RIL is committed to revolutionising the green energy sector and has a vision to enable 100 GW of solar energy by 2030," said Mukesh Ambani, Chairman and Managing Director of RIL.

"In collaboration with SenseHawk, we will drive down costs, enhance productivity and improve on-time performance to deliver the lowest LCoE (levelized cost of energy) for solar projects globally and make solar energy the go-to source of power in lockstep with our vision for solar energy. It is a very exciting technology platform and I am confident that, with RIL's support, SenseHawk will grow multifold."

Founded in 2018, SenseHawk is an early-stage California-based developer of software-based management tools for the solar energy generation industry.

The company helps accelerate solar projects from planning to production by helping companies streamline processes and use automation.

So far, the company has helped 140-plus customers in 15 countries adopt new technology for their 600-plus sites and assets totalling 100+ GW.

Raina retires from all forms of cricket

Former India batter Suresh Raina on Tuesday announced his retirement from all forms of cricket, a move that makes him eligible for competing in overseas T20 leagues. The 35-year-old had followed MS Dhoni into international retirement on August 15, 2020. He continued playing the IPL in 2021 for Chennai Super Kings.

Rowing, kayaking and canoeing in troubled waters at National Games

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

WATER SPORTS like rowing, kayaking and canoeing seem to be in troubled waters as far as the much-awaited National Games scheduled to be held across six cities of Gujarat is concerned. Even as the last date to send entries expired, all the names sent by the two federations have been kept on hold creating a situation of confusion among the athletes and respective state associations. The event is scheduled to begin on September 29.

The bone of contention seems to be the number of events officially allowed for kayaking and canoeing. For rowing, the situation arose as the Games Technical Conduct Committee (GTCC) allegedly barred rowers from Services Sports Control Board (SSCB) from representing their respective states. As of now only way they can represent is through the Services.

"They (organising committee) want to hold six events — three each in men's and women's categories — at the Games. The sport has more than 30 events but we agreed for 16 Olympic events (12 in kayaking and canoeing and four in slalom) as was informed to us in the past. However, now the events have been further reduced to six. If it happens, then I don't think kayaking and canoeing can be held at the Games, as it will deprive at least 50 athletes from competing," Prashant Kushwaha, president of the Indian Kayaking and Canoeing Association (IKCA), told this daily. Players have been waiting for the last seven years for the Games and will be unfair if majority are deprived of a chance to participate.

Mayank Thakur, chairperson of Para Canoe of the IKCA, said 36 events were held during the 2011 National Games in Jharkhand. "When three dozens of the events can be held at the Maithon Dam, 48km away from Dhanbad then why can't we hold at least Olympic events in Gujarat?" Thakur asked. All the events in kayaking, canoeing and rowing will be held in Ahmedabad. The Rowing Federation of India (RFI) has some other issue. According to RFI, the entries sent by it to the IOA are on hold. It is learnt that the RFI has sent entries including Services' rowers, who couldn't make it to the SSCB squad, in the state teams. However, the names were rejected on the ground the SSCB is being considered a state unit and its rowers cannot represent their respective states. As per the norm, only 18 rowers can compete for the SSCB at the Games. However, there are more than 100 rowers training 24x7 throughout the year at the Army Rowing Node in Pune.

According to the National Games rule, an athlete can represent his/her employer or his/her respective state at the championship. If the RFI's request is rejected then the state associations have to conduct trials again sans the Services rowers. This will also mean most of the states will be forced to send second-string teams. "All players should be given a right to participate regardless of whether they are from Services or not. Services players will add glitter and value to their teams and championships otherwise standards of rowing will be poor in men's events," Rajlaxmi Singh Deo, president of the RFI, told this daily.

Like IKCA, the number of events for the RFI has also been restricted. Only 14 Olympic events — seven each for men and women — will be held at the Games.

Dr Arjunsinh Rana, Vice Chancellor, Swarnim Gujarat Sports University, Gandhinagar, who is responsible for coordinating with federations, said the issues will be resolved.

IOA secretary general Rajeev Mehta said the arrangement as of now is what the federations are saying but he will speak to the GTCC chairman and Gujarat government to resolve the issues.

TOP ATHLETES MUST AT NATIONAL GAMES: IOA

The Indian Olympic Association has written to states units and national sports federations to ensure top athletes participate at the National Games in Gujarat from Sep 29-Oct 12. "To ensure the esteemed significance of the National Games, participation of all eligible eminent athletes who have taken part/won medals in the International Games and Championships are necessary to compete in the 36th National Games," said a letter from IOA secretary general Rajeev Mehta

Middle-order crumbles again as Sri Lanka push Rohit & Co to the exit door of Asia Cup

GOMESH S @Chennai

Indian players react to a throw during the Asia Cup match against Sri Lanka at Dubai on Tuesday | AFP

WHERE did it all go wrong? Let's start with the first thing. It's no secret that India would play R Ashwin. But in whose place was the question. India went with a defensive approach against Sri Lanka in Dubai on Tuesday, dropping a frontline bowler in Ravi Bishnoi for the off-spinner. They didn't bring in Axar Patel for Deepak Hooda. As a result, they were left with just five proper bowling options, just like the game against Pakistan on Sunday.

Even if that was what they wanted, there is case to be made that Ashwin must have come in for Yuzvendra Chahal and not Bishnoi. Chahal's figures so far in the Asia Cup reads 0/32, 0/18 and 1/43. Bishnoi, on the other hand, was the biggest positive for India in an otherwise dismal bowling performance against Pakistan. While it is true that Bishnoi is more of a googly bowler than leg-spinner, purely based on form, India could have backed him in a must-win clash.

And it didn't go their way as Chahal went for 23 runs in his first two. That Sri Lankan openers — Pathum Nissanka and Kusal Mendis — had taken apart the pace trio early on meant that India couldn't afford to hold back Ashwin for the left-handers. The off-spinner was economical and Chahal came back strongly to pick up two wickets in an over. He followed it up with another his final over, but the damage had already been done. It seemed like there was still hope for India when Ashwin got rid of Danushka Gunathilaka. But Bhanuka Rajapaksha with captain Dasun Shanaka - who has been the star of the Asia Cup for Sri Lanka - held their nerve to take his side home in the penultimate ball of the match.

In the batting department, there was very little to fault India in the first 12 overs. Having had his share of short bursts — average of 23.4 at a strike rate of 138.18 in the last 16 innings — through 2022, a big innings from Rohit Sharma was due. Despite the early dismissals of KL Rahul and Virat Kohli, he did not take his pedal off the accelerator. He charged down at Asitha Fernando, who went short. He reacted by using his hands to hook while standing upright in the middle of the pitch.

Off the next delivery, back of length, he rocked back and punched through point with a vertical bat. When the leg-spinners came on, he just tried to hit them out of the attack and was fairly successful at it. A 32-ball half-century ended with 72 runs from 41 balls as Rohit tried to keep the momentum going. When he got out, India were 110/3 in 12.2 overs.

But that was the end of it. They had kept Hooda, a top-order batter, at No 7, when in fact they could have played Dinesh Karthik, someone who is more suited for the role, especially when they weren't going to use Hooda's off-spin and picked Axar in place of Rishabh Pant. The middle-order collapsed, leaving Ashwin to scrape through the last two overs as they finished with 173/8. Irrespective of the result, India can take heart from the fact that they stuck to the approach they are trying to build which, at times, comes with a cost as it did on Tuesday.

Brief scores: India 173/8 in 20 ovs (Rohit 72, Suryakumar 34; Madushanka 3/24) lost to Sri Lanka 174/4 in 19.5 ovs (Kusal Mendis 57, Pathum Nissanka 52, Chahal 3/34).

Kolkata to host SMAT knockouts

AGENCIES @Mumbai

KOLKATA and Ahmedabad will host the knockout stages of Syed Mushtaq Ali Trophy (SMAT) and Vijay Hazare Trophy, respectively, while the BCCI will conduct two Irani Cup ties over the next months.

SMAT, the domestic T20 event, will take place from October 11 to November 5 while the Vijay Hazare one-day competition will run from November 12 to December 2.

Lucknow, Indore, Rajkot, Punjab and Jaipur will host the league stage of SMAT while Mumbai, Bangalore, Delhi, Kolkata and Ranchi will stage the Vijay Hazare league fixtures.

The BCCI is conducting a full-fledged domestic season for the first time since 2020.

The Board also confirmed that the two Irani Cup ties will be held at the start and end of season.

The 2020 Ranji Trophy champions Saurashtra will host Rest of India from October 1-5 while current champions Madhya Pradesh host ROI from March 1-5 next year, as per the scheduled shared by BCCI to state units.

Saurashtra were not able to play the Irani Cup after their maiden Ranji triumph in March 2020 due to the outbreak of pandemic.

The inaugural women's under-15 event will be played from December 26 to January 12 across five venues including Bangalore, Ranchi, Rajkot, Indore, Raipur, Pune. The season begins with Duleep Trophy in September 8 to 25. The premier domestic event, Ranji Trophy, returns to the traditional home and away format and will run from December 12 to February 20.

Frances Tia-Foe for Nadal in US Open

AP @New York

FRANCES Tiafoe's vision was blurry from the tears. He was thrilled — overwhelmed, even — when the last point was over and it hit him that, yes, he had ended Rafael Nadal's 22-match Grand Slam winning streak Monday and reached the US Open quarterfinals for the first time.

RESULTS (RD4)

Men: Sinner bt Ivashka 6-1, 5-7, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, Alcaraz bt Cilic 6-4, 3-6, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3, Rublev bt Norrie 6-4, 6-4, 6-4, Tiafoe bt Nadal 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Women: Swiatek bt Niemeier 2-6, 6-4, 6-0, Pegula bt Kvitova 6-3, 6-2, Pliskova bt Azarenka 7-5, 6-7 (5), 6-2, Sabalenka bt Collins 3-6, 6-3, 6-2

"I felt like the world stopped," Tiafoe said. "I couldn't hear anything for a minute." Then Tiafoe found himself "losing it in the locker room" when he saw that NBA superstar LeBron James gave him a Twitter shoutout. "Bro," Tiafoe said, "I was going crazy."

What meant the most to Tiafoe about his 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3 victory over 22-time major champion Nadal in the fourth round at Flushing Meadows, though, was looking up in his Arthur Ashe Stadium guest box and knowing his parents, Constant and Alphina, were there.

"To see them experience me beat Rafa Nadal — they've seen me have big wins, but to beat those 'Mount Rushmore' guys? For them, I can't imagine what was going through their heads," said Tiafoe, a 24-year-old American seeded 22nd at the US Open. "I mean, they're going to remember today for the rest of their lives."

His parents both emigrated to the United States from Sierra Leone in West Africa amid its civil war in the 1990s. They ended up in Maryland, where Constant helped construct a tennis training center for juniors, then became a maintenance man there; Alphina, Frances said, was "a nurse, working two jobs, working overtime through the nights." Frances and his twin brother, Franklin, were born in 1998, and soon would be spending hour upon hour where Dad's job was, rackets in hand. Maybe one day, went the dream, a college scholarship would come of it.

"It's something to tell the kids, the grandkids: 'Yeah, I beat Rafa," Tiafoe said with a big smile.

Inter vs Bayern

The Milan giants may have enjoyed solid Serie A season but they have under-delivered in Europe. Since 2018, their best was a pre-quarterfinal. Other occasions, they have even failed to get out of the group. Placed in the proverbial group of death this time, the challenge is paramount. For Bayern, a win away from home on match day one will set them perfectly for the remainder of the group stage. Considering new signing Sadio Mane has already linked up well, don't rule out a win for them.

Perennial contenders Liverpool and Bayern kickstart their campaigns with tricky away games. A look at a few of the Champions League games on Wednesday night...

Napoli vs Liverpool

The Premier League stalwarts will hope to use the match against the Serie A outfit as a means to kickstart their Premier League campaign. They are in a strange funk and the likes of Mo Salah is yet to get up to speed. If they don't snap out of it, Napoli could well make a statement victory. One man to keep an eye on is Georgia's Khvicha Kvaratskhelia, 'Kvaradona' to the local. The winger has already set pulses racing in Italy with some eye-catching displays. Can he now serve up a feast against one of Europe's aristocrats.

Payas-Yashaswini pair wins gold at Asian Jr TT

NEW DELHI: Indian paddlers ended their campaign in the Asian Junior and Cadet Championships in Laos on a golden note as Payas Jain and Yashaswini Ghorpade defeated the Chinese duo of Han Xinyuan and Qin Yuxuan 3-2 in the final. The Indians won 11-9, 11-1, 10-12, 7-11, and 11-8. This was the first gold medal that Indian juniors have won in the event.

WBBL: Jemimah signs for Melbourne Stars

NEW DELHI: Melbourne Stars on Tuesday announced the signing of India batter Jemimah Rodrigues for the eighth season of Women's Big Bash League (WBBL). The 22-year-old represented Stars' cross-town rival Melbourne Renegades last season, scoring 333 runs at a strike rate of over 116. Jemihah will join the Stars squad after Asia Cup.

Nakamura's stream, cryptic tweet & shock day for chess, story of Carlsen's withdrawal

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

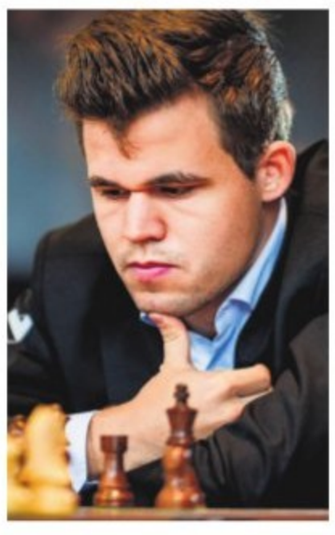
AROUND noon on Monday, the calm world of professional chess was thrown into chaos following Magnus Carlsen's shock withdrawal from the ongoing Sinquefield Cup at the Saint Louis Chess Club. The world champion and World No 1, who had lost with white pieces to a self-taught US teen Hans Niemann on Sunday, put out a cryptic tweet to confirm his withdrawal after a few chess journalists had heard the news via unofficial sources.

"I have withdrawn from the tournament," the Norwegian posted on Twitter. "I have always enjoyed playing in the St Louis Chess Club, and hope to be back in the future." He had attached a famous Jose Mourinho press conference video to the tweet. In it, the current Roma manager says, "I prefer not to speak. If I speak, I'm in big trouble. And I don't want to be in big trouble."

As soon as Carlsen's tweet landed, a lot of GMs started theorising that foul play was one of the reasons why the 31-year-old took the decision to withdraw during a tournament.

On Twitch, world No 6 Hikaru Nakamura, echoed that same sentiment. "The thing about Magnus withdrawing is, to me, just seems like Magnus thinks (Hans) cheated. Magnus would never do this in a million years, he just doesn't do that. He's the ultimate competitor, he's a world champion. He wouldn't do this unless he strongly believes Hans is cheating with a very strong conviction."

In the same stream, Nakamura also mentioned that Niemann has been banned previously from Chess.com because of suspected foul play. "This is probably something I should not say, but I will say this anyway. There was a period of over six months where Hans did not play any prize money tournaments on Chess.com... that's not up for debate, that's a known fact (Nakamura didn't provide any proof of this allegation)."



What added a few litres worth of gasoline to an already raging fire was Niemann's post-match assertion that he saw Carlsen play this exact way against fellow GM Wesley So at the London Chess Classic in 2018. It only took a few minutes to confirm that not only did So not take part there, the way Carlsen played the moves in that tournament was entirely different from the one he employed against Niemann on Sunday.

All of this translated to enhanced anti-cheating measures before Monday's fourth round at the Sinquefield Cup, one of the most prestigious chess events on the calendar. "As requested by anti-cheating arbiter, David Sedgwick, a 15-minute broadcast delay was implemented for today's round, as well as increased RFID (Radio-frequency Identification) checks," the organisers tweeted.

St Louis Chess Club's executive director, Tony Rich, refused to be drawn into speculation. "Magnus' decision to withdraw from the event is his personal decision and until he makes a public statement, we feel it's best to honour his wishes and we have accepted the fact he's withdrawn. We look forward to hosting Magnus at a future event."

While Carlsen has not provided any further reasoning for his withdrawal, the 19-year-old Niemann was happy to talk about it following his drawn fourth round match against Alireza Firouzja. "I was struggling to even focus. I was thinking about it the entire game. I have never in my life heard of a top player forfeiting a game... it's very strange, but at least I got to beat him before he left."

While Nakamura and a few other GMs were happy to speculate, one GM who came in favour of Niemann was Levon Aronian, another GM taking part in the tournament. "When young players play well... all of my colleagues are pretty much paranoid. I always think that young players can play well," he said after the fourth round.

THE BALL IS IN OUR COURT

With this week being the final week of the ongoing US Open, Bengaluru-based tennis players comment on the tournament and the state of Indian tennis

The age at which Indian players start training for higher levels is delayed. There are two key factors, the development that happens at a young age and knowing what exactly is required
Arjun Gautham, tennis coach

I can speak on behalf of many – that we watched Serena's matches with bated breath as this was the last time she was going to play the game. She is an inspiration to all women athletes
Sharmada Balu, tennis player

TUNIR BISWAS

IT is the final week of the ongoing US Open, and it has already created a huge buzz. Serena Williams, one of the greatest players of all time, played her final game recently, losing to Ajla Tomljanovi in the third round of the Grand Slam. Spanish legend Rafael Nadal also bowed out of the tournament on September 5 after losing to Frances Tiafoe in the round of 16. And on the same day, World No 1 Daniil Medvedev lost to the always-rebellious Nick Kyrgios. If this tournament was a TV show, the second season would have already been confirmed.

The success of India in tennis has always been a mixed bag. Veterans like Leander Paes, Mahesh Bhupathi and Sania Mirza have won multiple grand slams in doubles and mixed doubles, but the nation has never lifted the singles crown. Arjun Gautham, a former Association of Tennis Professionals (ATP) player and mental skills coach for players, believes that kids here pick up the tennis racquet relatively late compared to their Western counterparts. "The age at which Indian players start training for higher levels is delayed. There are two key factors, one, the development that happens at younger ages for these players and the other, an understanding of what exactly is required," says Gautham, adding that while players like Sumit Nagal and Ramkumar Ramanathan adjusted themselves to the international level when they were around 15, the process wasn't consistent.

"Recently, I was in Florida where the coaches who played at the highest level and players who are playing at the top level, are right in front of them. The feedback loop is immediate. The potential is way bigger than many juniors here because the quality of information that is given to them is exactly what you need. It's not something extraordinary but a normal day's work for them," shares Gautham.

Agrees Rishi Reddy, a tennis professional who is ranked 1136 in singles and 771 in doubles. "I started playing tennis when I was eight but I wasn't playing seriously until I was 14. I was not playing to improve but just to stay fit. Usually, in an Indian household, it's only when the kid does something big like winning a tournament or beating an elite player is when their parents allow them to play the game professionally," says Reddy. This difference in attitude, he says, leads to a big difference down the line.

ATP ranked 659 (singles) tennis professional SD Prajwal Dev feels it is pertinent to get the basics right as a young player. "Another important factor is strong financial support. There are a lot of players in our country who play well but can't progress due to financial setbacks," says Dev.

This US Open also marks the farewell of one of the game's best in history, Serena Williams. Sharmada Balu, who is ranked 622 (doubles) and 1120 (singles) by the Women's Tennis Association, watched all of Williams' matches at this Grand Slam. "I can speak on behalf of many – that we watched Serena's matches with bated breath as this was the last time she was going to play the game. She's in her 40s now and to be competing at that age well enough to beat the World No 2 Anett Kontaveit in the second round is inspirational to all women athletes out there," says Balu.

A big Roger Federer fan, Balu feels outside of the Swiss maestro, her all-time favourite tennis player, seven-time Grand Slam champion Justine Henin, and Sania Mirza played a big part in her tennis career. Among Indian players, the tennis players in this story count Rohan Bopanna, who won the Roland Garros in 2017 in the mixed doubles category with Gabriela Dabrowski, as a major inspiration as well.

KNOW YOUR CITY

Arun Prasad, city-based history researcher, unravels interesting facts about Bengaluru in this weekly quiz series. So it's time for you to find out how familiar you are with the city, beyond its heritage buildings, IT parks and the pub culture.

THE QUIZ WILL BE PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY

Send answers to bengalurucityexpress@gmail.com with the subject line 'Know Your City Quiz'

Correct answers and names of first three respondents with right answers will be featured in CE.

QUESTIONS

1. R H Colebrooke, a British army officer in India – who during his topographical survey of Mysore – did a watercolour painting of one of the well-known gardens in Bengaluru in 1791 (published in 1793) and titled it 'Cypress Garden in Bangalore'. James Hunter, another British artist, also did a painting on the gardens in 1792 (published in 1804) and titled the painting 'East view of Bangalore with the Cypress Garden'. Which garden in the city is referred to here as Cypress Garden?

2. Nallur Tamarind Tree Grove located towards the north of Bengaluru near Devanahalli is one of India's earliest biodiversity heritage sites dating back to the Chola times. Here lies the ruins of a 12th century Chennakeshava temple in the midst of a 54-acre tamarind tree grove where some of the oldest trees date back to 400 years. Devanahalli is also the birthplace of one of the Mysore rulers. Name the Mysore ruler.

3. The Dodda Aalada Mara (Big Banyan Tree), a giant 400-year-old banyan tree located at Ramohalli on the southern outskirts of Bengaluru is considered the 4th largest banyan tree in the world spreading over an area of over three acres. The tree attracts a large number of tourists during the weekends and holidays. Which department of the Karnataka government manages the heritage site?

Bengaluru-based rapper Brodha V has released his single Bujjima, a spoof on toxic relationships and their glorification in popular culture

Parody point

MONIKA MONALISA

TRUST city-based rapper Vignesh Shivan, aka, Brodha V's songs to make the right noise. First it was Vainko, then, Aathma Raama and now, Bujjima. The song, which stars social media sensations Niharika NM and Vineeth Beep Kumar from The Jordindian, has been gaining popularity on social media ever since its release.

It is a quirky spoof on toxic relationships and the romanticisation of them in pop culture. According to Brodha V, he picked the subject because he genuinely believed it was something very relatable. "The reason the song is so fun and has reached so many people is because of the fact that everyone has been through this and experienced it. I wanted to package the emotion and give it to my audiences to interpret it however they please," says Brodha V, adding that his main aim was to make a song that is both relatable and entertaining.

The rapper wrote the lyrics a few months ago even before he knew he wanted to release the song. "I was working on a few songs continuously and that is when the idea for Bujjima came to me. It just was very exciting and has been a fun experience," says the rapper.

PIC: RAGHAV RAMAIAH

Along with the songs, the video also looks fun with its take on some iconic characters like Harley Quinn and the Joker. "Cinematically everything has to be exaggerated and we were of the opinion that cosplaying and spoofing characters like Harley Quinn and the Joker will help communicate our message with more impact. We wanted drama, robust colours and a very 'extra' picturisation so as to speak," explains Brodha V, who is also playing an important part in the video apart from just rapping. He further adds, "Bujjima is my most fun music video to date, it was a blast shooting for the song. I believe as more time passes and the more you do this, you tend to get more confident and comfortable in your skin. My style has evolved over the years."

It's not the first time that he has collaborated with The Jordindian-famed Kumar. And with Niharika, in the video the chemistry between the three is something to watch out for. "It is always fun working with friends, I have been doing this for so long and Vineeth, Niharika and I had been wanting to do this for a while, especially since Vineeth was also a part of Vainko. Both of them have such a unique ability to make everything funny," he adds.

QUICK FIX

AAM PAPAD

Contributed by Niti Grover, New Delhi

INGREDIENTS

■ Mango: 2 cups ■ Sugar: 2 tbsp ■ Cardamom powder: 1/4 tsp ■ Ghee/clarified butter: 1/2 tsp

METHOD

- Take two cups of mango and two tablespoons of sugar in a blender and make it a smooth paste without adding water.
- Transfer the mango puree to a pan and begin to cook.
- Stir continuously and cook on medium flame until it thickens well.
- Add 1/4 teaspoon cardamom powder and mix well.
- Brush 1/2 teaspoon ghee on a steel plate.
- Transfer the puree onto the plate and spread uniformly.
- Sundry for two days or a week, until it turns translucent.
- Scrape the sides using the knife. Peel gently without damaging the aam papad.
- Finally, cut into the desired shape and roll aam papad.

FIT BIT

EKA PADA RAJAKAPOTASANA I VARIATION

(One-legged king pigeon pose variation 1)

In Sanskrit, 'eka' means one, 'pada' means foot or leg, raja means king, kapota means pigeon and asana means pose. It is a seated asana that increases flexibility and offers a wide range of physical and spiritual benefits. It is heavily linked to the Svadisthana (spleen or sacral) chakra.

STEPS

- Sit on the floor with both your legs straight out in front of you. Engage your Mula bandha, Uddhiyana bandha, and Ujjayi breathing.
- Keeping the knee on the floor, exhale and bend your left knee, and slide the left heel toward the inside of your right thigh.
- Inhale, lean forward. Exhale, extend the right leg straight out behind you with your right thigh, knee, shin, and front of the right foot on the floor. Square your hips by pulling the left hip to the back and right hip to the front.
- Inhale, lengthen the spine, pressing both hands to the floor by your hips for support. Exhale as you let your head roll back into a backbend.
- Exhale, bend your right knee, bringing your right foot toward your head. Once your right foot touches your head, slide your right foot under the back of your head and fix it in place.
- Inhale, stretch both arms up over your head. Exhale as you bring your palms together, keeping your arms straight and strong (Pose #1).
- Hold the pose for at least 30, and up to 90 seconds in order to receive full benefits of the stretch. Exhale, release the right foot from under your head and lower it to the floor. Inhale and straighten your spine.
- Exhale, bring both your legs straight out in front of you.
- Repeat on the other side.

LIMITATIONS

If you've had a hip replacement do not perform . Pregnant women should avoid.

BENEFITS

- Opens the hip joint, lengthens the hip flexor.
- Stretches the thighs, gluteals and piriformis muscles.
- Extends the groin and psoas.
- Helps with urinary disorder.
- Stimulates the internal organs.
- Improves posture, alignment and overall suppleness.
- Lessens or alleviates sciatic pain.
- Diminishes lower back pain and stiffness.
- Primal reaction to store stress, trauma, fear and anxiety in the hips.
- Releases negative feelings and undesirable energy stored in your system.

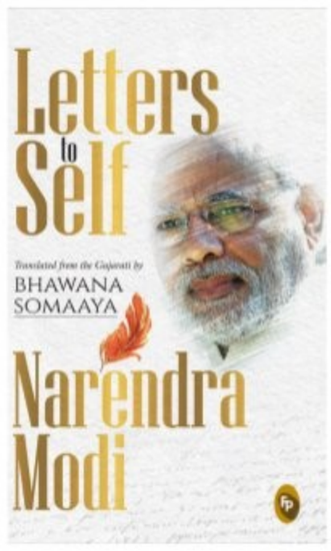
'THE EXERCISE THOUGH DAUNTING PROVED CATHARTIC'



I am neither a litterateur nor a poet. At best you may call me an admirer of words. For a long time, I have been in the process of accumulating my half-baked, part-delayed, part-scattered outpourings published at different times on different platforms. Finally, they have been strung together and compiled in this book. I plead you to not equate my expression with my post or position, rather celebrate it for the merit of the thought and the emotion. The prose poetry in this book reflects my feelings, experienced from my little window of life. I don't claim these experiences to be extraordinary and there is a possibility that they have glimpses and echoes of all that I have read and heard in my growing-up years. You can describe them as operative influences on my life. These expressions were never meant for public scrutiny and therefore were not nurtured to perfection. I am also aware that not all my writings are sufficiently ripe as yet to be described as poetry and that is acceptable to me, because often it is the raw mango that leaves a lingering taste in the mouth.

Bhawana Somaaya

My attraction for words stems out of my passion for reading. I am privileged to have interacted with the some of the best minds of Gujarati literature and fortunate that they included me in their creative journey of poetry readings and kavi sammelans. Suresh Dalal is one such evolved mind whom I admire and appreciate his quality to search for poetry everywhere and in everyone. There is a possibility that in my many interactions with him, he sensed the dormant writer within me and coerced me to open the floodgates of my heart. He emphasized that my writing, even though intended for personal expression, must not remain idle because who better than a Gujarati understands that all prime assets flourish only in circulation.

Thus began the process to find forsaken, forgotten countenance over the decades and build a new foundation. I searched old trunks, dusty diary pages, sepia-tinted lose sheets, some rolled, some folded inside forgotten books. I assembled crumpled folders and files, accumulated old and new writings, reread all, rewrote some, restructured a few and asked myself if the emotions still rankled. I was surprised that most of it still touched a raw nerve.

The exercise though daunting proved cathartic and as the rolls of paper — some joyous, some anguished scribbles — piled into a mound, I felt strangely satiated. Not because my writing was of merit but because I had accomplished the task I set out for, and the final outcome, good, bad, superior or mediocre, was secondary. The important point is that I own my outpourings. My writing reflects my churning, my vision, and my acute observations of people and life.

I invite my readers to come and rest beneath the shade of this full-bloomed tree and be a part of my journey.

Solitary tear

Relationships blossom
Break and wither away
A solitary tear
Lingers in the eye
The frozen tear
Heavy as a rock
A deserted Sitar
With broken strings
Forgotten in a corner
Like a heatwave
That burns
But doesn't disappear
The solitary tear
Lingers in the eye
How long can we Preserve
The broken pieces of crystal
The yearnings, the regrets
The appeals
Everything washes away
In flowing water
A solitary tear
Lingers in the eye
Melodious attachments
Now turn me restless
On a flower-festooned path
The thorns prick me
In my arid heart
There will never be a song

THE ORIGIN OF ILLUMINATED MANUSCRIPTS

I discovered very recently that illuminated manuscripts were the origin of Western painting! Those European Renaissance masters didn't create their oils on canvas from out of the blue. This art form took root in the 16th century when illustrators who created miniature landscapes and figures on the pages of manuscripts decided to branch off into making 'paintings' as we know them, and selling them.

Before the invention of printing in the 15th century, books were painstakingly copied by hand (hence called manuscript). The finest were illuminated with brilliant colours and real gold. They weren't just for show; gilded illustrations decorated important passages to highlight their significance. Light reflected from candles or sunlight would make it seem that the whole book was glowing.

It would take a team of illuminators several years to complete a single book. Many medieval manuscripts still survive today fully preserved with their colours just as vivid as the day they were illustrated. Of all the illuminated manuscripts from this period, the Book of Hours was, by far, the most popular and the most frequently commissioned by both the aristocracy and the middle classes. It clearly was the best-seller of its time!

A selection of these splendid pages is presented in Time Sanctified by Roger Wieck, along with a detailed discussion of their importance and their contents. A prayer book for the laity, the Book of Hours contains, at its heart, a series of prayers devoted to the Virgin Mary, which were meant to be recited at seven specified times during the day. The most highly skilled calligraphers and painters were commissioned to execute the finest decoration with the most luxurious materials, such as gold, silver, and lapis lazuli.

If you are a beginner to the illuminated manuscript (just like I was), The Illuminated Manuscript by Janet Backhouse is an excellent introduction. It's not too long, so it won't overwhelm you. This book provided the foundation for my first steps into researching medieval illumination for my column. What is illumination? Why were books illuminated and what types of books were considered worthy of illumination? Who were some of the most famous medieval illuminators? A book that I read to my 13-year-old son that I enjoyed was Marguerite Makes a Book by Bruce Robertson and illustrated by Kathryn Hewitt. This book (based in 15th century Paris), is about Marguerite, the young daughter of a manuscript illuminator, who has to help her aging father illuminate a Book of Hours for a very important lady or her father will lose both his commission and his reputation. This beautifully illustrated book joins Marguerite through each step of her illuminated book's creation. You will be transported to medieval Paris and Marguerite's workshop as you read and gaze at the pictures! This book was inspired by a rare collection of illuminated manuscripts held by the J. Paul Getty Museum.

A Complete View of the Dress and Habits of the People of England, From the Establishment of the Saxons in Britain to the Present Time. Illustrated by Engravings ... By Joseph Strutt. ... of 2
JOSEPH STRUTT
History and Geography

Two of my prized possessions are a 20th century facsimile of Book of Hours in colours and gold and an 1842 Henry Bohn deluxe edition of 25 copies of Joseph Strutt's A Complete View of the Dress and Habits of the People of England. The Book of Hours reproduction is considered one of the finest modern facsimiles for its colour reproduction and the use of 22 carat gold illumination. Printed to a limited edition of 980 copies it has 157 colour miniatures highlighted in gold with 714 pages. The 1842 Bohn edition of Strutt's A Complete View with the extra hand-coloured plates and illuminated in gold is scarce, and is absolutely gorgeous.

I have often wondered, what is the point of holding on to these illustrated manuscripts? I suppose it is the thrill of owning something as beautiful and rare as the Taj Mahal or the Pyramids, with viewing access granted only to me!

I ALWAYS ADD MY PERSONALITY TO THE ROLES I PLAY: KRISHNA

The actor talks about his latest release, Lucky Man. He also his memories with Puneeth Rajkumar on the sets of this film, which is slated to release in September

Krishna

CE FEATURES

KRISHNA, who has been busy with multiple projects this year, is gearing up for the release of his much-awaited film, Lucky Man, to hit the theatres this week. The actor will be sharing screen space with Power Star Puneeth Rajkumar in this romantic fantasy flick directed by Nagendra Prasad.

Lucky Man produced by Parsa Pictures is a remake of the Tamil hit Oh My Kadavule, which featured Ashok Selvan in the lead role. Krishna, who debuted as a director with the Love Mocktail series, shares that his liking for the original film made him take up the remake. "I liked the film so much for its screenplay. So, when I was offered the role, I did not think twice about picking up this project. Milana Nagaraj was initially hesitant about me doing a remake. But I was firm about the decision as I knew what I was getting into," says Krishna, who points out that a script like Oh My Kadavule is a rarity. "As a writer, and also director, I know the intricacies and difficulties of penning such subjects. So, when it came to me, I just took it. The box office results are in the hands of the audience but definitely, it is a feel-good watch."

Though Krishna had no idea about Nagendra Prasad's capabilities as a director, he went ahead because of the faith he had in his family and Nagendra Prasad's experience in films as an actor and choreographer.

"I just trusted him in the direction department and did my best to only in playing the character," he says.

Usually, actors refrain from watching the original film to give a new touch to the role. But Krishna had a different approach. "I kept watching the original version and went through every scene at least 10 times. Not to seek inspiration for my performance, but to be clear about what my director expects from me. I always add my personality to the roles I play," he says.

Puneeth Rajkumar wanted to recreate his father's (Dr Rajkumar's) film Naa Ninna Mareyalare and cast Ramya in it

Krishna was the last actor to share screen space with Power Star Puneeth Rajkumar. "We shot together for five days, and every moment was memorable. More than feeling lucky to have worked with him, I felt fortunate as it is his only special appearance for a film outside his home banner. The time I spent with him will always be my sweetest memory, he says.

Krishna shares that Puneeth spoke a lot about his future projects. "He showed me the rushes of his docu-film, Gandhada Gudi and wanted to recreate his father Dr Rajkumar's film Naa Ninna Mareyalare, with Ramya playing Lakshmi's role."

Puneeth had also talked about Krishna's Love Mocktail. "I had told him about the trailer but wasn't able to show it to him. He had a lot of plans for the industry, and had plenty of personal projects in his mind," says Krishna, adding, "I always hoped that I would get to play the second lead in one of Appu's films. But him playing an extended cameo in my film is a wish fulfilled."

Jaggesh-Vijaya Prasad's Totapuri to arrive during Dasara

The comedy satire also stars Aditi Prabhudeva, Dhananjay, and Suman Ranganath

CE FEATURES

The much-awaited Jaggesh-starrer Totapuri will finally hit the theatres on September 30. The comedy satire directed by Vijaya Prasad will be releasing along with Rishab Shetty's Kantara. An official announcement of the release date was made at a media interaction on Tuesday. The entire cast spoke about the film and discussed the film's content and characters.

Jaggesh also went on a trip down memory lane and shared a few thoughts about his good old days in the film industry. He also shared an opinion about today's social media. The actor-director, who had earlier grabbed attention with Neer Dose is back with Totapuri. KA Suresh, the producer of hit films Govindaya Namah, Shravani Subramanya, and Shivalinga has bankrolled the film under the Moniflix Studios banner. Said to be on a big budget, the film was shot on a 100-day schedule and it will be out in two parts.

Apart from Jaggesh, the film comprises an interesting star cast including Dhananjay, Aditi Prabhudeva (female lead), Suman Ranganath, Veena Sundar and Dattanna The film has music scored by Anoop Seelin.

The dark comedy marks the directorial debut of the popular TV actor

CE FEATURES

RAJESH Dhruva, best known for his character Akhil in the popular Kannada daily soap Agnisakshi, is set to make his feature film debut with Sri Balaji Photo Studio (Since 1979). In addition to playing the lead role, he is also directing the film, which is now in post production stages

The first look of Sri Balaji Photo Studio captures the essence of a traditional photo studio of the 70s with stock pictures of Kannada celebrities including the legendary Dr Rajkumar in the backdrop. However, the film is set in the present, says Rajesh. "The film traces the life of a photographer, and his emotional connection with the studio. How this character tries to update with the digital world and how a particular situation brings a turn in his life will be the crux of Sri Balaji Photo Studio," adds the director.

Rajesh chose to direct and act in the film because he did not get the kind of subjects and characters he wanted. "I started honing my directorial skills with short films, where I got first-hand experience of getting behind the camera. It helped me to helm my first feature film."

Sri Balaji Photo Studio is scripted by Abhishek Sirsi and Prithvikanth. Produced by Venkateshwar Rao, the film has Manoj Cinestudio as the cinematographer, Sriram Gandharva as the composer. The cast includes Nakul, Subbalakshmi, Ravi Salian, Radhika Achuth Rao, Sampath G Ram, Rakshit Gowda, and Ravi Moorur.

MARITAL DISTRESS OF A POLICEWOMAN

Rasika Dugal discusses her latest show, Delhi Crime season 2, and why she believes that the personal-professional conflict her character faces is relevant across the country

RAM VENKAT SRIKAR

RASIKA Dugal, who plays IPS officer Neeti Singh in both seasons of Delhi Crime, vividly remembers reading the script of Season 1 for the first time. "I had no doubts that I wanted to be a part of a project, and this doesn't happen easily for me. I knew immediately that my story would be told well." The acclaim and accolades that came the first season's way augmented the excitement for the second season—both for fans and Rasika herself. The second season might not surpass the strength and humanness of the original, but it isn't flat either, and so, it does dodge the infamous 'curse of the second season'. Rasika makes it clear that both seasons shouldn't be pitted against one another. "They are both different. Season 2 is more of a crime drama, but I am happy that the new season retains the basic quality of the characters established in the first installment and carries it forward."

Rasika shares that the second season allowed the actors an opportunity to explore their characters further. "We were familiar with our characters and the script allowed us to map their growth and transformation. I think the show excels at making the viewer privy to the life of the police. Viewers are allowed to closely observe how humour thrives even in urgent and desperate situations, and how even the most confident authorities have vulnerable cores."

The actor believes that in such web content, the writer has more control over the character than the actor. "I try to understand the root of the character's decision or behaviour. I will never say that a character shouldn't behave in a particular way. I believe a person can react in any way to any situation. People surprise you all the time. So, characters should also be able to surprise you in a given story."

While the obstacles faced by Neeti mostly emerged from her profession earlier, in the new season, balancing her personal and professional lives is her biggest challenge. Rasika was able to connect to this conflict strongly. "It was a lovely subplot to explore, especially because I had a wonderful co-actor in Aakash Dahiya. We tried to graph Neethi and Devinder's journey throughout the season, as she remains conflicted between her profession and her husband. Women in our country bear the brunt of this all the time; it is heart-wrenching and all of us have seen it growing up and continue to experience it every day."

Rasika, who has found immense success in the streaming space, has characters being written for her now, and has come a long way from her debut in 2007. "There are days when I feel extremely proud of the quality of work I do," Rasika says, before posting a rhetorical question. "Am I completely secure? No. I don't think that's possible, right? There will always be something that you aspire to achieve, and situations don't always pander to your aspirations. There are times when I feel I am not getting the kind of scripts that my heart truly desires. And there have been some wishes that have miraculously come true. For instance, I have been a huge fan of sports dramas that tell underdog stories; these are stories that every middle-class person like myself wants to hear. I have always enjoyed the genre and the universe conspired to send a sports drama series my way! So, I believe that if you really yearn for something, you will have to wait, but it will happen!"
